Asks Serious Approach

President Challenges Mr. K On Joint Space Pool Efforts

House Kills President's Urban Plan

264-150 Vote Also Defeats Bid To Put Negro In Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has torpedoed President Kennedy's plan to establish a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs. But he says there will be such a department "sooner or later."

The lopsided 264-150 House vote Wednesday also killed Kennedy's plans to put a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, in the Cabinet for the first time. Weaver, now head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, would have become the urban affairs secretary.

In turning back Kennedy's reorganization proposal 111 Democrats, mostly Southerners, joined 153 Republicans. Thirteen Republicans crossed over to support the President, voting with 137 Democrats for the plan.

At his news conference Kennedy blamed his expected but stunning setback on sectionalism.

He said: "If we in this country began to adopt the system that everyone who lives in a city area voted against those things which were of assistance to the farmer, and everybody who comes from a rural area voted against those policies which provided a better life for people in the city this country would come to a grinding halt."

Expressing regret that Congress had rejected the plan, Kennedy said he still regarded creation of such a department vitally important. "I don't think it is so much the administration's loss as it is a loss for the cities and the country," he said.

As Accord Nears To End 7½-Year Rebellion

Terrorist Attacks Sweep Algiers As SAO Attempts To Wreck Truce

ALGIERS (AP) — A wave of terrorist attacks swept Algiers today as the right-wing Secret Army Organization made a last-ditch effort to wreck an impending French-Algerian agreement to end the 7½-year rebellion.

Police reported more than a score of scattered attacks between 7 a.m. and noon, as European gunmen in cars and afoot fired at Europeans and Moslems, killing at least 11 persons and wounding 15.

The violence erupted as the Algerian rebel National Council was called into session in Tripoli to act on an agreement with France to end the strife.

The 60-member parliament was expected to give the needed four-fifths approval to the accord paving the way for Algerian independence, a measure already endorsed by France.

With the measure reported approved by the rebel Cabinet, hopes soared for a cease-fire in the North African territory by Sunday.

Among the victims in today's outbreak were four postmen killed and three wounded. Harried officials accused the secret army of desperately seeking to provoke strikes and major disturbances on the eve of peace.

French headquarters for Algeria appeared confident that the army will succeed in keeping the tense situation in hand when a cease-fire is announced. But the command is not taking any chances on the loyalty of various field commanders.

Informed sources said that the 500,000-man French army in Algeria has been permitted only 15 days of food and fuel supplies.

This drastic reduction from the normal stocks apparently was meant to discourage officers from attempting to join forces with right-wing extremists.

All signs pointed to a last-ditch uprising by the right-wing European Secret Army Organization pledged to keep Algeria French. For the first time French troops battled openly in field combat Wednesday with secret army members.

But the Moslem nationalists obviously believed that the end of their long battle against France—and possibly the beginning of a new struggle against Algeria's Europeans—was near at hand. They distributed tracts among Algeria's nine million Moslems urging them to avoid clashes with Europeans and to "demonstrate your joy within your own areas."

President Charles de Gaulle's government approved the Algerian agreement Wednesday night after nearly four hours of discussion.

Louis Joxe, minister of Algerian affairs and top French negotiator with the nationalist rebels, spoke for more than an hour on the tentative accord hammered out in secret talks in France last week.

The document, more than 100 pages long, spells out provisions for a cease-fire and steps for a self-determination referendum which De Gaulle fully expects to decide for independence.

It also provides for future economic, cultural and other cooperation between France and the new Algerian state and for guarantees for the European minority.

No amount of guarantees, however, was expected to placate diehards in the secret army.

The French commander in Algeria, Gen. Charles Ailleret, visited Oran to discuss emergency measures with the local corps commander in that secret army stronghold. Steel-helmeted troops in bullet-proof vests patrolled the streets of Algiers in armored vehicles.

Claims It's Very Vital At Moment

Kennedy Expresses Hope Aides Of Both Nations Meet Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has challenged Soviet Premier Khrushchev to waste no time in proving he favors joint efforts to explore outer space.

"I think it is particularly important now, before space becomes devoted to uses of war," Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday.

Khrushchev had sent a message congratulating the United States on Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s triple orbit of the globe and suggesting the two governments combine resources to explore outer space.

Less than four hours after the news conference the White House made public a direct reply to Khrushchev. In it Kennedy expressed hope "that at a very early date our representatives may meet to discuss our ideas and yours in a spirit of practical cooperation."

He added the United States would come up with "new and concrete proposals" for joint enterprises that could be undertaken without delay.

Kennedy opened his news conference with a statement noting that twice before he had offered the same sort of proposition Khrushchev advanced. But the President called the Soviet premier's move an encouraging sign for international cooperation.

Glenn's memorable flight and the possibility of U.S.-Soviet cooperation in space dominated the half-hour meeting with newsmen. But in answering questions Kennedy also disclosed a special board of inquiry is determining whether U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers violated the contract under which he made his ill-fated reconnaissance flight over the Soviet Union on May 1, 1960.

250 At GOP Dinner

Democrats Seen 'Spending Party'

"Democrats are spending the country to ruin," the chairman of the National Young Republicans' Federation told a crowd of 250 at the Columbiana County Republicans' annual Lincoln Day dinner Wednesday night at the First Methodist Church at Lisbon.

Leonard Nadasdy of Minneapolis declared 10 cents of every tax dollar goes for interest on the national debt.

OUR TOTAL tax for the year will be $175 billion, causing spiral inflation," he declared, adding, "they claim their party is for the little people, yet they have no faith in the individual."

"The Kennedy administration claims it is creating new jobs for the people, but the only new jobs are government jobs for more people, making higher taxes to support the program," he said.

Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture, came in for criticism. Nadasdy said it took Minnesota people six years "to find out he couldn't handle money" and he left the state in the worse condition it has ever been in. "Now he is showing the nation he still can't handle money or affairs of the agriculture department," Nadasdy said.

"IT'S UP to you in 1962 to give Kennedy a Republican congress," Nadasdy appealed. "Most Republicans say, 'let George do it,' and usually George is a Democrat. That is why we have what we have today.

"Republicans are going to get their candidates in and then promote the platorm stand of cutting taxes. They will fight for their beliefs and promote them by salesmanship and all must work towards that goal for self preservation," he warned.

Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, vice chairman of the county Republican Central Executive Committee, was toastmaster and presented Ernest Whitacre of Salem, chairman of the county committee, who spoke and introduced

Labor Group Airs Tax But Delays Action

Trades and Labor Council, meeting Wednesday night in the old IBOP Building, discussed at length a proposal to re-enact a city income tax, but took no action for or against the issue pending a report of the delegates to their local unions.

Trades Council received a report from a four-member committee which conferred informally Feb. 13 with the City Council finance committee.

At the discussion of city finances and revenues last week, Trades Council was represented by Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer; Audley Elliott, Jerry Cartwright and Mrs. Gloria Young. They met with the finance committee, comprised of Councilmen George E. Willshaw, chairman, Robert W. Sample Jr. and Edward Massey.

Two factors prompted the decision not to take a position on the tax question — poor attendance caused by bad weather and a suggestion that the delegates be given an opportunity to report the committee's findings to their locals.

New officers were seated, with James B. Moss, former president, as installing officer.

They are: Elmer Robinson of Chester, president; Theodore Sharkey, vice president; Winters, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Laura Krawiec, inspector, and Elliott, guard. Trustees are Frank Duffy, Floyd Jividen and Miss Delores Rankin.

A $10 contribution was voted for the Red Cross campaign. The next meeting will be Wednesday, March 7.

Welcome Set For John At Cape

Glenn Will Receive Medal From President On Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The high school band polished its instruments. The mayor prepared a special proclamation. The Chamber of Commerce readied a big red, white and blue "Welcome home, John" banner.

The nearby town of Cocoa Beach, which prides itself as "Spacetown, USA," was getting set to let go Friday with a big open-arms greeting to Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth.

The joy was tinged slightly with disappointment.

The townsmen had hoped President Kennedy would ride through on his way to greet Glenn at the cape. But word got around Wednesday that the President planned to bypass Cocoa Beach and fly right to this missile test center to give Glenn a medal and make a quick inspection before returning to Palm Beach.

Glenn is still on Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas, winding up a series of exhaustive checks in which doctors and psychologists are trying to gauge how he was affected by prolonged weightlessness and other phenomena of flight in space.

So far, Glenn's condition has checked out as excellent.

The astronaut's wife, two children, parents and in-laws were to head South today for their reunion with the Marine lieutenant colonel Friday.

And they were going prestige class—as guests of Kennedy on his plane bound from Washington to Palm Beach.

The President invited along Glenn's wife, Annie, their son David, 16, and daughter Lyn, 14; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr.; and Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Castor, Mrs. Glenn's father and mother.

From Palm Beach, the astronaut's relatives were due to fly here aboard an Air Force plane, with the President following on Friday.

Kennedy will spend the weekend at the family's winter home at Palm Beach, Fla., visiting with his father, Joseph P. Kennedy. The elder Kennedy is recuperating from a stroke suffered Dec. 19. The President's wife and their two children, Caroline, 4, and John Jr., 1, flew to Palm Beach Wednesday in the family plane.

At his news conference Wednesday Kennedy called Glenn's mission a "magnificent achievement." The President said it goes "far beyond our own time and our own country."

"The success of this flight, the new knowledge it will give us, and the new steps which can now be undertaken, will affect life on this planet for many years to come," he said.

Cocoa Beach, which considers itself Glenn's second home, will show its feelings for him during a slow-moving motorcade which will carry the red-haired, green-eyed Marine war hero the 20 miles from Patrick Air Force Base to the cape.

Brevard County schools will be out. And thousands of persons from other central Florida communities, perhaps from even further away, are expected to flow into Cocoa Beach and line the broad highway that forms its main street.

Police Chief William M. Walker was bracing for a big traffic snarl, perhaps bigger than the one last Tuesday when about 55,000 persons jammed the beaches to watch Glenn's rocket take off.

Mayor Thomas S. Kennedy was drafting a proclamation of welcome to mark Glenn's return.

Glenn is due to reach the cape's own airfield about 15 minutes before the President's planned touchdown at about 10:30 a.m. There, they will meet again—Glenn visited the President at the White House early this month.

Kennedy probably will look in on the ground control center, heart of the man-in-space operation, and see Pad 14 from which Glenn blasted off.

At Hangar "S", where Glenn prepared for his great adventure, Kennedy will present him with the space agency's Distinguished Service Medal—the climax of the day.

The President will return to Palm Beach about noon, and Glenn then will face what promises to be a heavily covered news conference before he and his family go off on what a space agency official said will be a quiet weekend.

Next Monday, the Glenns will link up with the President again at Palm Beach and fly from there to Washington where this country's ranking space explorer will receive the thanks of Congress and the fullest possible honors.

Helps Save Skin Diver

Glenn Backs Up Backup Pilot In Rescue At Sea

GRAND TURK ISLAND, Bahamas (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. backed up his backup pilot in a sea rescue a day after Glenn himself was pulled from the ocean in his space capsule.

Glenn, brought to this Air Force tracking station for a physical examination and interviews about his 17,500-mile-an-hour flight around the globe, took part in the rescue of a skin diver Wednesday.

His fellow astronaut and backup pilot, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm S. Carpenter, had been swimming with two unidentified skin divers who live on the island. One had dived to see how deep he could go without a supply of air.

Carpenter accompanied him down and said the man apparently became unconscious at the 80-foot depth, on his way up from 110 feet. Carpenter could not succeed in giving him his mouthpiece for air and pulled him to the surface, where Glenn, sitting in a boat, helped pull the man aboard.

Glenn was taking time out from physical examinations and giving details of his orbital flight to National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials. During the afternoon he went swimming in the Atlantic, accompanied by two physician friends.

Glenn today started the last half of interviews based on several hundred pre-set questions while his memory is still fresh.

Doctors also are taking a bit of his time with another blood test and an electrocardiogram, but so far have found no definite changes from his pre-flight status said Dr. Ashton Graybiel of Pensacola, Fla.

Wednesday night Glenn was guest of honor—with some competition—at a party given by men of this Air Force tracking station manned by personnel of Pan American and Radio Corp. of America. The base is commanded by Capt. John Portasik.

Paving Firm Will Transfer Plant To City

Martins Ferry Unit Will Occupy Land On Riverfront Here

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. disclosed today it has leased a two-acre site on the River Rd. at Ralston's Crossing and will move its Martins Ferry blacktop-mixing plant here shortly after April 1.

The company, with main offices at Martins Ferry, disclosed it has sold its plant site in the Belmont County city, necessitating the move. But the main office and equipment repair shops will remain in Martins Ferry.

The company has reached an agreement with the Hays Oil Co. on a five-year lease on ground which lies between the River Rd. and the Ohio River at Ralston's Crossing.

From its East Liverpool plant, it will serve southern Columbiana County, western Beaver County and the northern Panhandle area of West Virginia. The company will continue to operate plants of similar size at Mingo Junction, Benwood and Weirton.

At the season's peak, the plant employs a crew of about five men, with a similar number in its road crew. The experienced employes will be brought here from Martins Ferry, but some unskilled labor may be hired locally, the concern said.

The operation is seasonal, timed to coincide with blacktop road and street projects. It operates at peak from about May 1 to Nov. 1 or Nov. 15.

Moving of the plant equipment will begin in March, in order that it will be in shape to produce at the opening of the paving season.

The company expects to obtain its aggregate material from the Midland Slag Co., located at the west end of Midland. Although it has a riverfront site, it probably will not take shipments by river under ordinary circumstances, the company said.

It was reported unofficially that the tract the plant now occupies in Martins Ferry has been sold as the site of a new grocery supermarket.

One factor that prompted the move is that the East Liverpool plant will be closer to the area in the Tri-State region which Tri-State has served for many years, a company official said.

Skidding City Truck Rams Parked Auto

A skidding city incinerator department truck smashed into a parked auto Wednesday on Grant St., shoving the car onto a sidewalk, but no one was hurt, police reported.

The 1962 model city truck, operated by Kenneth Jackson, 38, of 1057 Elmwood St., hit a parked 1958 sedan owned by Linda Burlingame, 345 Grant St., damaging the right rear fender, trunk, bumper and gravel pan, officers said.

Three minor mishaps also were reported overnight, two of them hit-skip collisions.

Jackson told police he had halted his truck at Lincoln Ave. and Grant St. to pick up some refuse, then started downgrade when the truck began to slide on the snow-covered grade.

When Jackson tried to steer the truck away from the auto, which was parked at Grant St. and Green Ln., the truck slid into the curb and then continued sideways, striking the car, Jackson said.

The right rear of the truck hit the rear of the auto, with the bottom of the truck passing over the rear of the car, damaging the top of the right rear fender and trunk, Jackson reported. The auto was pushed over the curb in front of the owner's home, he related. The right wheels were on the sidewalk and the left wheels were against the curb.

The rear of the truck came to a halt against a utility pole on the north side of Grant St. at Green Ln., but the truck apparently was undamaged, officers

For High Court Review

Usual Channels Indicated In West Virginia Tax Plea

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Attorney General's Office may have to go through normal channels to get the State Supreme Court to review a Circuit Court ruling that the year-old state income tax law is unconstitutional.

This was indicated Wednesday when attorneys representing Ned H. Tanner of Parkersburg and the office of Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson were unable to agree on having the lower court decision certified to the Supreme Court.

Robertson had hoped to work out a way to speed the matter to the Supreme Court and had hoped to have Wood County Circuit Judge Donald F. Black certify his ruling immediately for review.

After yesterday's meeting, Judge Black entered an order enjoining Premier Photo Service Inc. of Parkersburg from withholding the state tax from Tanner's earnings. However, the order will not become effective for 90 days to give Robertson a chance to appeal to the Supreme Court.

Judge Black handed down the decision last Monday that the income tax law passed by the 1961 Legislature is unconstitutional.

Ordinary appeal procedure would be for the state to apply for a writ of error, but that wouldn't get the case before the appellate judges until their April term.

The state budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 counts on the income tax for $15 million and it would be in the red by that amount if Judge Black's ruling were upheld. This would require a special session of the Legislature to replace the revenue or trim the budget.

Robertson's office reminded taxpayers that they must continue to pay the tax until a final ruling is handed down.

Wood County's three Republican members of the House of Delegates — Jack L. Miller, Robert T. Goldenberg and Spencer K. Creek — said that in the event Judge Black is upheld, they would sponsor legislation permitting refunds of income tax already collected.

Asks Serious Approach

President Challenges Mr. K On Joint Space Pool Efforts

House Kills President's Urban Plan

264-150 Vote Also Defeats Bid To Put Negro In Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has torpedoed President Kennedy's plan to establish a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs. But he says there will be such a department "sooner or later."

The lopsided 264-150 House vote Wednesday also killed Kennedy's plans to put a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, in the Cabinet for the first time. Weaver, now head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, would have become the urban affairs secretary.

In turning back Kennedy's reorganization proposal 111 Democrats, mostly Southerners, joined 153 Republicans. Thirteen Republicans crossed over to support the President, voting with 137 Democrats for the plan.

At his news conference Kennedy blamed his expected but stunning setback on sectionalism.

He said: "If we in this country began to adopt the system that everyone who lives in a city area voted against those things which were of assistance to the farmer, and everybody who comes from a rural area voted against those policies which provided a better life for people in the city this country would come to a grinding halt."

Expressing regret that Congress had rejected the plan, Kennedy said he still regarded creation of such a department vitally important. "I don't think it is so much the administration's loss as it is a loss for the cities and the country," he said.

As Accord Nears To End 7½-Year Rebellion

Terrorist Attacks Sweep Algiers As SAO Attempts To Wreck Truce

ALGIERS (AP) — A wave of terrorist attacks swept Algiers today as the right-wing Secret Army Organization made a last-ditch effort to wreck an impending French-Algerian agreement to end the 7½-year rebellion.

Police reported more than a score of scattered attacks between 7 a.m. and noon, as European gunmen in cars and afoot fired at Europeans and Moslems, killing at least 11 persons and wounding 15.

The violence erupted as the Algerian rebel National Council was called into session in Tripoli to act on an agreement with France to end the strife.

The 60-member parliament was expected to give the needed four-fifths approval to the accord paving the way for Algerian independence, a measure already endorsed by France.

With the measure reported approved by the rebel Cabinet, hopes soared for a cease-fire in the North African territory by Sunday.

Among the victims in today's outbreak were four postmen killed and three wounded. Harried officials accused the secret army of desperately seeking to provoke strikes and major disturbances on the eve of peace.

French headquarters for Algeria appeared confident that the army will succeed in keeping the tense situation in hand when a cease-fire is announced. But the command is not taking any chances on the loyalty of various field commanders.

Informed sources said that the 500,000-man French army in Algeria has been permitted only 15 days of food and fuel supplies.

This drastic reduction from the normal stocks apparently was meant to discourage officers from attempting to join forces with right-wing extremists.

All signs pointed to a last-ditch uprising by the right-wing European Secret Army Organization pledged to keep Algeria French. For the first time French troops battled openly in field combat Wednesday with secret army members.

But the Moslem nationalists obviously believed that the end of their long battle against France—and possibly the beginning of a new struggle against Algeria's Europeans—was near at hand. They distributed tracts among Algeria's nine million Moslems urging them to avoid clashes with Europeans and to "demonstrate your joy within your own areas."

President Charles de Gaulle's government approved the Algerian agreement Wednesday night after nearly four hours of discussion.

Louis Joxe, minister of Algerian affairs and top French negotiator with the nationalist rebels, spoke for more than an hour on the tentative accord hammered out in secret talks in France last week.

The document, more than 100 pages long, spells out provisions for a cease-fire and steps for a self-determination referendum which De Gaulle fully expects to decide for independence.

It also provides for future economic, cultural and other cooperation between France and the new Algerian state and for guarantees for the European minority.

No amount of guarantees, however, was expected to placate diehards in the secret army.

The French commander in Algeria, Gen. Charles Ailleret, visited Oran to discuss emergency measures with the local corps commander in that secret army stronghold. Steel-helmeted troops in bullet-proof vests patrolled the streets of Algiers in armored vehicles.

Claims It's Very Vital At Moment

Kennedy Expresses Hope Aides Of Both Nations Meet Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has challenged Soviet Premier Khrushchev to waste no time in proving he favors joint efforts to explore outer space.

"I think it is particularly important now, before space becomes devoted to uses of war," Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday.

Khrushchev had sent a message congratulating the United States on Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s triple orbit of the globe and suggesting the two governments combine resources to explore outer space.

He added the United States would come up with "new and concrete proposals" for joint enterprises that could be undertaken without delay.

Kennedy opened his news conference with a statement noting that twice before he had offered the same sort of proposition Khrushchev advanced. But the President called the Soviet premier's move an encouraging sign for international cooperation.

Glenn's memorable flight and the possibility of U.S.-Soviet cooperation in space dominated the half-hour meeting with newsmen. But in answering questions Kennedy also disclosed a special board of inquiry is determining whether U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers violated the contract under which he made his ill-fated reconnaissance flight over the Soviet Union on May 1, 1960.

250 At GOP Dinner

Democrats Seen 'Spending Party'

"Democrats are spending the country to ruin," the chairman of the National Young Republicans' Federation told a crowd of 250 at the Columbiana County Republicans' annual Lincoln Day dinner Wednesday night at the First Methodist Church at Lisbon.

Leonard Nadasdy of Minneapolis declared 10 cents of every tax dollar goes for interest on the national debt.

Labor Group Airs Tax But Delays Action

Trades and Labor Council, meeting Wednesday night in the old IBOP Building, discussed at length a proposal to re-enact a city income tax, but took no action for or against the issue pending a report of the delegates to their local unions.

Trades Council received a report from a four-member committee which conferred informally Feb. 13 with the City Council finance committee.

At the discussion of city finances and revenues last week, Trades Council was represented by Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer; Audley Elliott, Jerry Cartwright and Mrs. Gloria Young. They met with the finance committee, comprised of Councilmen George E. Willshaw, chairman, Robert W. Sample Jr. and Edward Massey.

Two factors prompted the decision not to take a position on the tax question — poor attendance caused by bad weather and a suggestion that the delegates be given an opportunity to report the committee's findings to their locals.

New officers were seated, with James B. Moss, former president, as installing officer.

They are: Elmer Robinson of Chester, president; Theodore Sharkey, vice president; Winters, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Laura Krawiec, inspector, and Elliott, guard. Trustees are Frank Duffy, Floyd Jividen and Miss Delores Rankin.

A $10 contribution was voted for the Red Cross campaign. The next meeting will be Wednesday, March 7.

Welcome Set For John At Cape

Glenn Will Receive Medal From President On Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The high school band polished its instruments. The mayor prepared a special proclamation. The Chamber of Commerce readied a big red, white and blue "Welcome home, John" banner.

The nearby town of Cocoa Beach, which prides itself as "Spacetown, USA," was getting set to let go Friday with a big open-arms greeting to Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth.

The joy was tinged slightly with disappointment.

The townsmen had hoped President Kennedy would ride through on his way to greet Glenn at the cape. But word got around Wednesday that the President planned to bypass Cocoa Beach and fly right to this missile test center to give Glenn a medal and make a quick inspection before returning to Palm Beach.

Glenn is still on Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas, winding up a series of exhaustive checks in which doctors and psychologists are trying to gauge how he was affected by prolonged weightlessness and other phenomena of flight in space.

So far, Glenn's condition has checked out as excellent.

The astronaut's wife, two children, parents and in-laws were to head South today for their reunion with the Marine lieutenant colonel Friday.

And they were going prestige class—as guests of Kennedy on his plane bound from Washington to Palm Beach.

The President invited along Glenn's wife, Annie, their son David, 16, and daughter Lyn, 14; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr.; and Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Castor, Mrs. Glenn's father and mother.

From Palm Beach, the astronaut's relatives were due to fly here aboard an Air Force plane, with the President following on Friday.

Kennedy will spend the weekend at the family's winter home at Palm Beach, Fla., visiting with his father, Joseph P. Kennedy. The elder Kennedy is recuperating from a stroke suffered Dec. 19. The President's wife and their two children, Caroline, 4, and John Jr., 1, flew to Palm Beach Wednesday in the family plane.

At his news conference Wednesday Kennedy called Glenn's mission a "magnificent achievement." The President said it goes "far beyond our own time and our own country."

"The success of this flight, the new knowledge it will give us, and the new steps which can now be undertaken, will affect life on this planet for many years to come," he said.

Cocoa Beach, which considers itself Glenn's second home, will show its feelings for him during a slow-moving motorcade which will carry the red-haired, green-eyed Marine war hero the 20 miles from Patrick Air Force Base to the cape.

Brevard County schools will be out. And thousands of persons from other central Florida communities, perhaps from even further away, are expected to flow into Cocoa Beach and line the broad highway that forms its main street.

Police Chief William M. Walker was bracing for a big traffic snarl, perhaps bigger than the one last Tuesday when about 55,000 persons jammed the beaches to watch Glenn's rocket take off.

Mayor Thomas S. Kennedy was drafting a proclamation of welcome to mark Glenn's return.

Glenn is due to reach the cape's own airfield about 15 minutes before the President's planned touchdown at about 10:30 a.m. There, they will meet again—Glenn visited the President at the White House early this month.

Kennedy probably will look in on the ground control center, heart of the man-in-space operation, and see Pad 14 from which Glenn blasted off.

At Hangar "S", where Glenn prepared for his great adventure, Kennedy will present him with the space agency's Distinguished Service Medal—the climax of the day.

The President will return to Palm Beach about noon, and Glenn then will face what promises to be a heavily covered news conference before he and his family go off on what a space agency official said will be a quiet weekend.

Next Monday, the Glenns will link up with the President again at Palm Beach and fly from there to Washington where this country's ranking space explorer will receive the thanks of Congress and the fullest possible honors.

Glenn Backs Up Backup Pilot In Rescue At Sea

GRAND TURK ISLAND, Bahamas (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. backed up his backup pilot in a sea rescue a day after Glenn himself was pulled from the ocean in his space capsule.

Glenn, brought to this Air Force tracking station for a physical examination and interviews about his 17,500-mile-an-hour flight around the globe, took part in the rescue of a skin diver Wednesday.

His fellow astronaut and backup pilot, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm S. Carpenter, had been swimming with two unidentified skin divers who live on the island. One had dived to see how deep he could go without a supply of air.

Carpenter accompanied him down and said the man apparently became unconscious at the 80-foot depth, on his way up from 110 feet. Carpenter could not succeed in giving him his mouthpiece for air and pulled him to the surface, where Glenn, sitting in a boat, helped pull the man aboard.

Glenn was taking time out from physical examinations and giving details of his orbital flight to National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials. During the afternoon he went swimming in the Atlantic, accompanied by two physician friends.

Glenn today started the last half of interviews based on several hundred pre-set questions while his memory is still fresh.

Doctors also are taking a bit of his time with another blood test and an electrocardiogram, but so far have found no definite changes from his pre-flight status said Dr. Ashton Graybiel of Pensacola, Fla.

Wednesday night Glenn was guest of honor—with some competition—at a party given by men of this Air Force tracking station manned by personnel of Pan American and Radio Corp. of America. The base is commanded by Capt. John Portasik.

Paving Firm Will Transfer Plant To City

Martins Ferry Unit Will Occupy Land On Riverfront Here

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. disclosed today it has leased a two-acre site on the River Rd. at Ralston's Crossing and will move its Martins Ferry blacktop-mixing plant here shortly after April 1.

The company, with main offices at Martins Ferry, disclosed it has sold its plant site in the Belmont County city, necessitating the move. But the main office and equipment repair shops will remain in Martins Ferry.

The company has reached an agreement with the Hays Oil Co. on a five-year lease on ground which lies between the River Rd. and the Ohio River at Ralston's Crossing.

From its East Liverpool plant, it will serve southern Columbiana County, western Beaver County and the northern Panhandle area of West Virginia. The company will continue to operate plants of similar size at Mingo Junction, Benwood and Weirton.

At the season's peak, the plant employs a crew of about five men, with a similar number in its road crew. The experienced employes will be brought here from Martins Ferry, but some unskilled labor may be hired locally, the concern said.

The operation is seasonal, timed to coincide with blacktop road and street projects. It operates at peak from about May 1 to Nov. 1 or Nov. 15.

Moving of the plant equipment will begin in March, in order that it will be in shape to produce at the opening of the paving season.

The company expects to obtain its aggregate material from the Midland Slag Co., located at the west end of Midland. Although it has a riverfront site, it probably will not take shipments by river under ordinary circumstances, the company said.

It was reported unofficially that the tract the plant now occupies in Martins Ferry has been sold as the site of a new grocery supermarket.

One factor that prompted the move is that the East Liverpool plant will be closer to the area in the Tri-State region which Tri-State has served for many years, a company official said.

Skidding City Truck Rams Parked Auto

A skidding city incinerator department truck smashed into a parked auto Wednesday on Grant St., shoving the car onto a sidewalk, but no one was hurt, police reported.

The 1962 model city truck, operated by Kenneth Jackson, 38, of 1057 Elmwood St., hit a parked 1958 sedan owned by Linda Burlingame, 345 Grant St., damaging the right rear fender, trunk, bumper and gravel pan, officers said.

Three minor mishaps also were reported overnight, two of them hit-skip collisions.

Jackson told police he had halted his truck at Lincoln Ave. and Grant St. to pick up some refuse, then started downgrade when the truck began to slide on the snow-covered grade.

When Jackson tried to steer the truck away from the auto, which was parked at Grant St. and Green Ln., the truck slid into the curb and then continued sideways, striking the car, Jackson said.

The right rear of the truck hit the rear of the auto, with the bottom of the truck passing over the rear of the car, damaging the top of the right rear fender and trunk, Jackson reported. The auto was pushed over the curb in front of the owner's home, he related. The right wheels were on the sidewalk and the left wheels were against the curb.

The rear of the truck came to a halt against a utility pole on the north side of Grant St. at Green Ln., but the truck apparently was undamaged, officers

For High Court Review

Usual Channels Indicated In West Virginia Tax Plea

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Attorney General's Office may have to go through normal channels to get the State Supreme Court to review a Circuit Court ruling that the year-old state income tax law is unconstitutional.

This was indicated Wednesday when attorneys representing Ned H. Tanner of Parkersburg and the office of Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson were unable to agree on having the lower court decision certified to the Supreme Court.

Robertson had hoped to work out a way to speed the matter to the Supreme Court and had hoped to have Wood County Circuit Judge Donald F. Black certify his ruling immediately for review.

After yesterday's meeting, Judge Black entered an order enjoining Premier Photo Service Inc. of Parkersburg from withholding the state tax from Tanner's earnings. However, the order will not become effective for 90 days to give Robertson a chance to appeal to the Supreme Court.

Judge Black handed down the decision last Monday that the income tax law passed by the 1961 Legislature is unconstitutional.

Ordinary appeal procedure would be for the state to apply for a writ of error, but that wouldn't get the case before the appellate judges until their April term.

The state budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 counts on the income tax for $15 million and it would be in the red by that amount if Judge Black's ruling were upheld. This would require a special session of the Legislature to replace the revenue or trim the budget.

Robertson's office reminded taxpayers that they must continue to pay the tax until a final ruling is handed down.

Wood County's three Republican members of the House of Delegates — Jack L. Miller, Robert T. Goldenberg and Spencer K. Creek — said that in the event Judge Black is upheld, they would sponsor legislation permitting refunds of income tax already collected.

Chester Told State To Clean Sewer Line

Chester Council was advised Wednesday night the West Virginia State Road Commission plans to have a private contractor clean a state-owned storm sewer along Carolina Ave. between 1st and 3rd Sts.

Police Chief Harold Davis reported two commission representatives visited the city last week, and informed him the department does not have trained personnel to clean the line.

Council recently asked the commission to work on the sewer, which has apparently become filled and causes occasional flooding. Council offered the use of city equipment and water.

The commission aides said they are seeking to let the work out to a private contractor on bids.

Councilman Cyril Govey, chairman of the street committee, was requested to investigate a notice from Robert Hand of Rock Springs Park that surface water from the park is running onto Indiana Ave. and 6th St. Hand said the flow stems from a closed sewer at Indiana Ave. and 6th St. which was cemented shut several years ago.

City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner was asked to investigate an apparent change in times for filing the annual city levy estimate.

City Clerk Roy Cashdollar reported he has received forms for the estimate, which is to be made between March 7 and March 28. In previous years, the estimate was made on the first Tuesday in August.

Slippery Roads Cause 3 Mishaps

Snow and ice-slicked roads were cited as causes for at least three area one-car road mishaps Wednesday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported. No one was hurt.

Richard Allen Riley, 18, of Rogers R. D. 1, headed west on Route 154 about two miles east of Rogers at 10:30 p. m., swerved off the road to avoid another approaching car headed down the middle of the road in snow. His car went off the highway and hit guardrails, officers said.

David Slifka, 39, of Youngstown, headed south on Route 164 about a mile north of Lisbon at 6:45, lost control on the slippery road and his auto struck guardrails, causing minor damage.

Rex Brady, 49, of Massillon lost control of his car while driving south on Route 9 about two miles north of Hanoverton and the auto slid over an embankment.

Explorer Posts To Be Activated

Plans for activating two new Explorer Scout Posts in the district were announced by William Bulger, Explorer Council Cabinet chairman, at a meeting of the Cherokee District cabinet Wednesday night at the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church near Wellsville.

About 14 attended the meeting at which plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held in March. Ed Carnes reported a dance will be held in May in East Liverpool.

Frank Rossi, camping and activities chairman, suggested leaders be notified of a March 4 "University of Scouting" session at Lisbon.

Robert Gray, district executive, spoke on the national explorer conference at the University of Michigan in August.

Truck And Car Crash Blamed On Icy Road

A "sheet of ice" was blamed for a collision on Route 66 near the Newell bridge in which $400 damage was caused to a 1962 compact and $5 to a tractor-trailer rig Wednesday.

Andrew Pavalo Jr., 44, of Follansbee was heading north in his Falcon about 8:15 a. m. when his car skidded sideways on the curve near the bridge and struck the tire of the Interstate Motor Freight system rig operated by Frank B. Gardner, 31, of Box 208, East Liverpool, Hancock County deputy sheriffs said.

Deputies said the road was "a sheet of ice yesterday morning" and estimated the damages to the car and truck.

Mental Health Group Airs Annual Meeting

LISBON — Plans for the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association were discussed at its session Wednesday noon at the Wick Hotel with Mrs. J. Donald Thompson of East Liverpool, president, in charge. No official action was taken, however. Eighteen members and guests attended.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin spoke on new legislation concerning admission policies to mental institution in Ohio.

John M. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, and Robert McNamara, a psychologist of East Liverpool schools, were guests.

Folk Singer Will Give Program At Chester

Commemorating West Virginia's centennial in 1963, the Women's Association of the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church will sponsor a recital of folk music by Dorothy Callison of Montgomery Monday night at 8 at the church.

Mrs. Callison, a native of Pocahontas County, will present a program of songs and spirituals of the region with commentary on the historical and legendary background of the music.

She accompanies herself on the auto harp and banjo.

Tickets for the public recital are available from women of the church or from Mrs. Richard Barnhart and Mrs. J. M. Brand. Proceeds are to be used for church projects.

Mrs. Callison has studied voice and in January appeared in Menotti's "The Telephone" at the West Virginia Tech music department.

The state Centennial Commission has arranged for an appearance of Mrs. Callison on Wheeling television station WTRF Monday morning at 11.

Her love of singing and interest in history prompted her career in folklore, and she has collected many songs from the mountain people themselves.

"I am proud of our heritage. I feel it is just as great, if not greater, than the heritage of other states in the Southern Appalachians," she said.

Post Office To Start Sale Of Glenn Stamps Friday

Twenty thousand special 4-cent stamps commemorating Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s historic flight into space will go on sale at the Post Office Friday morning, the day the astronaut is scheduled to return to Cape Canaveral.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said the shipment of blue and yellow stamps was received this morning, but the Post Office was closed today because of Washington's Birthday.

The Post Office Department in Washington printed 100 million of the commemorative stamps and distributed them secretly in advance to 300 post offices in the larger cities across the country.

Word was flashed from Washington for the sale to begin the moment Col. Glenn was plucked from his "Friendship 7" space capsule in the Atlantic.

Then the demand began in East Liverpool. When the telephone lines to the main Post Office became jammed with calls, some residents called in person to inquire about the city's supply.

Issued in panes of 50, the stamps are designed on blue and yellow on white paper, portraying a space capsule with the earth in the lower left portion, with large letters, "Project Mercury," and "U. S. Man In Space" and "4 Cents" in smaller letters.

Brown said he plans to order extra stamps when he learns the item number of the commemorative issue, although he does not know if the supply will have been exhausted.

Arrangements have been made for collectors to obtain envelopes bearing the new stamp with the cancellation "Cape Canaveral, Fla.," the date and hour of recovery of the capsule and the wording "First Day of Issue," Brown was informed.

The first-day covers may be obtained from the Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, 25, at one-cent above the face value of the stamps involved.

The cost of a cover bearing a single stamp will be 5 cents, a block of four 17 cents and so on.

Orders for the special covers must include no other issues and outer envelopes should be endorsed "4 Cent Project Mercury Covers" to speed service.

The orders must not be sent to Cape Canaveral, the department emphasized.

Insurance Group Will Hear Guest

Philip G. Horan, a special agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Akron, will be guest speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the East Liverpool Association of Life Underwriters Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Horan has been affiliated with Northwestern Mutual for 22 years. He has served as president of the Akron Association, vice president of the Ohio Association of Life Underwriters and presently is state committeeman for the Akron Association.

Leo C. Lawrence is program chairman. Charles Heasley, president, will preside.

The association has launched plans for a spring affair to honor veteran underwriters, both those who already have retired and those planning to retire soon.

Meanwhile, 12 members have enrolled in a 12-week underwriters' health course held each Tuesday morning at the YMCA with William A. Kent, manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., as the instructor.

The final examination will be held May 8.

Contracts Let For Addition

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Wednesday night awarded contracts totaling $214,821 for construction of a 14-room addition to the McKinley school.

Riley Construction, Inc., of Alliance received the general contract on a low bid of $134,643; Cardinal Plumbing & Heating of Sebring received the plumbing and heating job bid at $54,360 and Firestone Electric of Salem won the electric contract on a bid of $25,818.

The total does not include the architect's fees, site acquisition, furnishings and planned renovations.

Bids were opened at noon Wednesday and 14 were received for the general contract, eight for plumbing and heating and two for electric.

Construction is expected to begin immediately and the board hopes the project will be completed for the opening school in the fall.

District voters passed a $350,000 bond issue in November for the project.

At present, two classrooms are operated outside the schools—one at the American Legion Home and the other at St. George's Parish Hall, along with kindergarten in the Methodist Church. Classes are also being held in the auditorium at McKinley.

Word was flashed from Washington for the sale to begin the moment Col. Glenn was plucked from his "Friendship 7" space capsule in the Atlantic.

Then the demand began in East Liverpool. When the telephone lines to the main Post Office became jammed with calls, some residents called in person to inquire about the city's supply.

Issued in panes of 50, the stamps are designed on blue and yellow on white paper, portraying a space capsule with the earth in the lower left portion, with large letters, "Project Mercury," and "U. S. Man In Space" and "4 Cents" in smaller letters.

Brown said he plans to order extra stamps when he learns the item number of the commemorative issue, although he does not know if the supply will have been exhausted.

Arrangements have been made for collectors to obtain envelopes bearing the new stamp with the cancellation "Cape Canaveral, Fla.," the date and hour of recovery of the capsule and the wording "First Day of Issue," Brown was informed.

The first-day covers may be obtained from the Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, 25, at one-cent above the face value of the stamps involved.

The cost of a cover bearing a single stamp will be 5 cents, a block of four 17 cents and so on.

Orders for the special covers must include no other issues and outer envelopes should be endorsed "4 Cent Project Mercury Covers" to speed service.

The orders must not be sent to Cape Canaveral, the department emphasized.

Insurance Group Will Hear Guest

Philip G. Horan, a special agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Akron, will be guest speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the East Liverpool Association of Life Underwriters Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Horan has been affiliated with Northwestern Mutual for 22 years. He has served as president of the Akron Association, vice president of the Ohio Association of Life Underwriters and presently is state committeeman for the Akron Association.

Leo C. Lawrence is program chairman. Charles Heasley, president, will preside.

The association has launched plans for a spring affair to honor veteran underwriters, both those who already have retired and those planning to retire soon.

Meanwhile, 12 members have enrolled in a 12-week underwriters' health course held each Tuesday morning at the YMCA with William A. Kent, manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., as the instructor.

The final examination will be held May 8.

Girl Killed By Car

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Gail Lynn Snodgrass, 6, dashed in front of a car and was killed Wednesday, police reported. The girl was on her way to a nearby store when she was hit.

Contracts Let For Addition

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Wednesday night awarded contracts totaling $214,821 for construction of a 14-room addition to the McKinley school.

Riley Construction, Inc., of Alliance received the general contract on a low bid of $134,643; Cardinal Plumbing & Heating of Sebring received the plumbing and heating job bid at $54,360 and Firestone Electric of Salem won the electric contract on a bid of $25,818.

The total does not include the architect's fees, site acquisition, furnishings and planned renovations.

Bids were opened at noon Wednesday and 14 were received for the general contract, eight for plumbing and heating and two for electric.

Construction is expected to begin immediately and the board hopes the project will be completed for the opening school in the fall.

District voters passed a $350,000 bond issue in November for the project.

At present, two classrooms are operated outside the schools—one at the American Legion Home and the other at St. George's Parish Hall, along with kindergarten in the Methodist Church. Classes are also being held in the auditorium at McKinley.

This Thing We Remember

George Washington said it this way:

"The candid part of Mankind, if they are convinced of my integrity, will make proper allowances for my inexperience and frailties."

He had no illusions about himself. He never claimed to have any extraordinary quality, except one. He thought he understood clearly the necessities of the American Revolution and how to deal with them. He said frankly on many occasions that he was discouraged by the inadequacy of his contemporaries — the soldiers who ran away, the pompous militarists who used the struggle to advance themselves, the carping politicians who quibbled about buttons and were too busy to talk about cannon, the faint-hearted, the weak, the traitors.

We are still teaching children about the Revolution as if it were won by the bravery of the colonists fighting under an inspired military genius. George Washington never claimed to be a military genius. He never claimed to be inspired. He knew the colonists were none too brave, none too reliable and none too convinced of the rightness of their cause. He knew the British were smug, ignorant and careless and that this would be their undoing.

His secret — his genius — was his confidence that he knew what needed to be done and how to do it. His "integrity," as he thought of it, was flawless, though its flawlessness did not keep it from being besmirched. He was like Abraham Lincoln in this respect — a man who did what he had to do against the savage opposition of his intimates as well as the opposition of an enemy whose stupidity ultimately gave victory to the side that couldn't even have claimed it by default had it not been for George Washington.

His inexperience and frailties have been forgotten. Debunkers never had much luck dramatizing them. His integrity is all that men want to remember now, not because they are more candid than they were but because history has dropped its veil of mystery over everything about George Washington that was less than heroic.

To The Leopards!

It's on to Pittsburgh—and points east, if possible—for the Lincoln High School basketball team of Midland which captured the WPIAL Section 8 title and completed the school's first perfect cage season in history Tuesday night by defeating Monaca.

Perfect seasons are few and far between in any sport, so congratulations are in order to the players, the coaching staff, the student body and fans in general.

Midland can be proud of its high school basketball team. As a neighbor and friendly rival, East Liverpool would have no objections whatever if the Leopards went all the way and brought home the trophy symbolic of state champion in Pennsylvania.

A Message Soft And Clear

Defense Secretary McNamara said on his return to Washington from a third Hawaiian conference on the Viet Nam problem in two months that "some of these wars have lasted for as long as 10 years in other parts of the world, but I am hopeful this will not be the case in South Viet Nam."

Secretary McNamara was giving us a message — soft and clear, as is his style. He was telling us the United States, having made a commitment to keep Communist guerillas from taking over South Viet Nam, is involved in another Asiatic garrison policy, like the one in Korea.

He means there has been added to Korea and West Germany, including Berlin, a third place where U.S. military personnel and equipment must stay indefinitely to maintain a status quo that would evaporate if the United States pulled out and created a military vacuum.

He means the United States has exposed itself to one more possibility of attack in a distant place surrounded by hostile forces; that once more it intends to gear a faltering foreign economy so closely to U.S. wealth that departure would precipitate disaster.

Secretary McNamara seems to be preparing us for another of those frustrating military messes in which victory is impossible and defeat unthinkable.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: I see in the papers that old-timers are holding their noses in the air because people are having fun at White House parties.

One newspaper columnist, David Lawrence, threw a typographical conniption fit over this and sounded to me as if he might be getting ready to start impeachment proceedings on grounds the Kennedys are detracting from official dignity. You might have thought Mr. Lawrence was 107 years old, though he won't even be 74 until next December, they told me at the library. That isn't so old.

How I ever got to be unofficial apologist for Jack and Jacqueline Kennedy is a question, but I feel it's my duty to object when their fellow citizens snipe at them out of malice. I don't believe we can afford to indulge ourselves in malice against the official family of the United States. Moreover, I never have believed any of us has a God-given right to be malicious.

I am glad people are having a good time at White House parties, because I have read so many accounts of how much fun people haven't had at White House parties. The trouble has been that the parties were not held with the idea of having fun but only with the idea of going through certain stiff formalities. White House parties have been stuffy, according to what I've read.

There's nothing stuffy about the young Kennedys and their friends, and the unstuffiest thing about them is their refusal to pretend to be stuffy. They are apparently not upset by the thought of being sniffed at by disapproving elders. Maybe they figure that disapproving elders will be offset by approving elders, and your Aunt Effie and I would like to be included among the latter.

When we were the Kennedys' age we stayed up all night if the party was good enough to stay up for. We did this with the approval of the only elders whose opinion we valued — the people who had brought us into the world and who had stayed up all night in their time.

There won't be many occasions worth staying up for so it's important to make the most of each one. Come to think about it, there won't be too many occasions in a lifetime when we will have dancing feet in the White House, and we should make the most of them.

I know this is connected with what is considered to be the proper presidential image. Our stuffed shirts always would have the chief executive and his lady look like them—and their overstuffed wives.

Me, I want my chief executive and his lady to look like themselves — young and with their arthritis and varicose veins still remotely distant. I even promise to learn the Twist if they'll invite me to their next hoedown.

Your spry old aunt insists she can do it without a lesson — says she learned when we were first married and I hitched her up for spring plowing before we could afford two horses. There's a gal who made staying up all night to laugh and holler and jump around seem like a privilege.

Regards to all your folks and yours for more fun everywhere, not just in the White House.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

New York, like many cities, is having a dispute over parking privileges given to doctors in areas of traffic congestion. Henry A. Barnes, new traffic chief, has been talking to physicians about it, and following is an imaginary conversation:

Chief (approaching doctor's car): May I have a word with you.

Doctor: What's your ailment?

Chief: High blood pressure from trying to ease traffic jams, especially with respect to doctors' automobiles.

Doctor: I am just leaving hospital after being up all night. My office is full of sick people. And you want me to worry over my auto!

Chief: I appreciate your problem, but think physicians are overdoing their special parking rights. They're putting traffic on the sick list.

Doctor (impatiently): Can't we discuss this at my office?

Chief: No. It would mean I only could see you by appointment!

Doctor: Do you really think a physician up to his neck in work should be worried about a parking meter?

Chief: Traffic is on the danger list and needs fast treatment.

Doctor: Yes, but you want to operate before the diagnosis. You're telling me THIS when my office has two people with broken legs, four with sprained ankles and a man with a dislocated shoulder!

Chief: You've got to be more reasonable.

Doctor: If you were flat on your back needing a doctor would you want him to spend time hunting around for a parking place?

Chief: If my problem gets much worse I'll be flat on my back and have to make a judgment. Incidentally your wife parked your car beside a hydrant on wrong side of a one-way street while she shopped yesterday. Don't you think you should make her stop this?

Doctor: Mister, I'm only a physician, not a miracle worker! Women are women.

BRITISH MINISTER of agriculture has banned professional onion peelers from peeling at home. We didn't know there was such a thing as a "pro" onion peeler. At what point does an onion peeler leave the amateur ranks? What are the requirements, outside of speed and resistance to asphyxiation?

New York Transit Authorities has a school teaching politeness to 35,000 workers. The big problem is just how to get charm into cries of "Let me off," "Move up ahead" and "Step Lively."

Washington, D.C. gives low numbers to dogs of prominent people. Caroline Kennedy has No. 1. The idea is fine, if the dogs don't know it. We wouldn't want pooches nipping neighbors and postmen and getting away with it because of status.

Twelve cities of the U.S. now have system under which you can get weather forecast merely by phoning a special number. This is age when worrying over weather has become a national fad. Folks used to read the forecast and let it go at that, supplementing it by recourse to a few old fashioned weather maxims.

A Subtle Approach?

Johnson Eyes Labor Integration

By Victor Riesel

From now on the vice president of the United States will attempt to see to it that the nation's most celebrated labor chiefs and the unions they lead practice what they preach on racial equality.

Victor Riesel

In a private meeting in his office last Thursday, Feb. 15—which was not fully reported — Lyndon Johnson told two NAACP leaders his next major project would be the desegregation of American labor.

The man from Texas told Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, and Herbert Hill, its national labor secretary, that he wanted more than promises. Mr. Johnson said he would move on a formal basis in 30 days.

He has been talking privately with such labor leaders as George Meany and Walter Reuther. He has talked hard and earnestly with other union executives at social functions in the White House, in the Labor Department and at private luncheons.

MR. JOHNSON said that now he was ready to call the labor men for official chats. He said he wanted action. He indicated he desired signed agreements. He told his visitors—with Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg nodding assent at his side—that the organized political strength of the unions involved would not influence him.

He listened carefully as his NAACP visitors told him that it is easier for a Negro craftsman to join and stay in a union in the South than in the North. In the skilled construction trades unions, that is.

He listened as they said that virtually all of the 25,000 or so men in the rapidly dwindling ranks of skilled Negro workers are in Southern unions — segregated locals—but still inside them. He heard his intense callers say that there are thousands of Northern locals in which there is not a single Negro.

This includes locals of the operating engineers, the iron workers, the sheet metal workers, the plumbers, the carpenters, the boilermakers, the rail unions.

They pointed out that despite the declarations of some rail union leaders there is, for example, not a single ticket clerk in the depots of the land—the North included.

HERBERT HILL told the vice president that there is not a single Negro in the Washington electrical workers union. Its men have worked on such vast projects as the congressional office buildings and the 12th street expressway.

Even the AFL - CIO national headquarters had to be built without a single Negro electrical worker. This Local 26, IBEW does not have a single Negro member.

In some cities such as New York and Cleveland, as well as Washington, D.C., there are locals with one, sometimes two, Negroes. Hill said the NAACP had tried for the seven years since the AFL-CIO merger to get action—especially from the construction trades. He has not had any results he said.

Hill added that he "would not waste time and the NAACP's money" going to the AFL-CIO Executive Council sessions in Bal Harbour.

The vice president listened as Hill charged that "All we get is pious fakery, but no real action where it counts."

The NAACP officials pointed out four union methods of keeping Negroes out of their unions and from the skilled trades. These are:

There is outright exclusion. If specific non-Negro membership clauses are removed, then the exclusion is by tacit consent. Some of these unions are led by members of labor's high command itself.

There are segregated locals.

There are separate racial seniority lists.

Refusal to accept Negroes as apprentices. This prevents Negroes from learning skills.

IT WON'T BE as easy to force labor to practice what it preaches as it was for the vice president's committee on equal employment opportunity to line up some 52 major coprorations. The government can penalize the industrialists by denying government contracts to their companies.

But it now develops there is no real power to compel the unions to comply. There, furthermore are virtually no statistics on which to act. But there will be once Mr. Johnson gets the vital data he's now collecting on 15.5 million employes of 38,000 corporations.

If the vice president fails, the NAACP is preparing to go into court so it can get its people into the factories as they got their children into the schools!

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Ruth Brokaw was elected junior president of the Meg Latimer Society, Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Pauline Taylor Weinhardt of East Liverpool presented a program of popular songs over radio station KDKA Pittsburgh.

Harry F. Herbert, nephew of Mrs. Anna Chamberlain of St. George St., was appointed a sergeant in the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Ohio State University.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Members of the Senior Class of Wells High School in Newell presented a three-act comedy, "The Ghost Walks", under the direction of Margaret Faust, Fred Miller and Ruth Cox.

Miss Ruth Stafford qualified for president of the Ella Mae Davison Mission Circle of the First United Presbyterian Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — The third and fourth degrees were conferred on Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. McGaffic by the Calcutta Grange.

Mrs. Jessie Thompson was auctioneer for the white elephant sale conducted by the United Mothers Club at the home of Mrs. Ida Baxter of E. 4th St.

Mrs. Esther McDonald was received as a new member of the Gay Twenty Club which met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Blankenship of Walnut St.

It Gets Around

The recent discovery of a layer of sulfur gets into almost everything, the National Geographic Society says.

The average man's body contains about one-quarter of 1 per cent sulfur. He wakes to the tinkle of an alarm clock whose steel was "pickled" in sulfuric acid, a compound second only to water in industrial use. He washes with soap processed with the help of a sulfuric acid and puts on clothes bleached by sulfur dioxide or dyed with sulfur compounds.

He drinks orange juice from trees protected by sulfur-containing fungicides and eats cereals that would never have reached his table but for fertilizers made with sulfuric acid. For his coffee, he may take sugar, refined with the help of sulfur, and cream from a cow, which, like every other living thing, requires sulfur to survive.

Climbing into his car, he starts the motor with a storage battery containing sulfuric acid. A spark ignites gasoline, refined by sulfuric acid; the wheels turn on sulfur - valcanized rubber.

He works in a building that sulfur made possible — from the explosives that dug the foundation to the last drop of paint on the interior walls.

Russians Distort School Enrollment Figures

A new weapon has cropped up in the Cold War propaganda battle. We are now, it seems, involved in a debate over whether the United States or the Soviet Union has more "university" students in proportion to total population.

The statistical skirmish started last October with the publication of "Vysshee Obrazovanie v SSSR (Higher Education in the U.S.S.R.) by the Central Satistical Administration of the U.S.S.R. Council of Ministers.

The publication, attempted to prove that the Soviet Union was substantially ahead of the United States in the university student-to-total population ratio.

U.S. enrollments "according to published official American statistics," were given as 3.37 million out of a total population of 177.7 million for a ratio of 190 students per 10,000 population.

This was substantially better than the Soviet claim to a ratio of 111 per 10,000 based on enrollments of 2.39 million and a total population of 216.14 million during the 1960,61 school year.

THE BOOK then proceeded to provide a second set of statistics for the United States—the only country among the 57 listed in the tabulation to be so treated.

The second set of figure excludes all enrollments in two-year junior or community colleges, all enrollments in the first two years of all other American colleges and universities, and all doctoral candidates.

The result of this statistical surgery is a United States ratio of 102 students in "higher education" to every 10,000 persons. This is based on an enrollment of 1.81 million, thus indicating that the United States is lagging behind the Soviet Union in both enrollments and the student-to-population ratio.

All this was justified in the only page of text, aside from the introduction, in a volume devoted to hundreds of statistical tables.

"Data for the United States of America published by American official statistics," the explanation read, "include students of junior colleges, which are not higher educational institutions, and students in the first two years of other colleges and higher educational institutions, which is level of training are regarded as the senior classes of secondary school."

This contention was backed up by quotations from a number of Western sources, including a 1935 statistical survey published by the United States Office of Education, to the effect that the completion of the first one or two years of an American college program is the equivalent of completion of a European secondary school.

The Soviets equated a European secondary school with their own and thus tried to establish that 12 years of American secondary schooling and two years in college were the equivalent of the 10 or 11 year program now provided by the Soviet primary-secondary schools.

THE SOVIETS' new propaganda gambit was uncovered by Seymour M. Rosen, specialist in comparative education for Eastern Europe in the U.S. Office of Education, and outlined in the current issue of "Higher Education," an official Office of Education periodical.

Mr. Rosen proceeded to take up the cudgels for our side.

In the first place, he said, the Soviets' "Mosaic of selected data and generalizations" would lead others to "an inaccurate impression of our colleges and universities."

He did not deny the Soviet contention that graduates of "European" secondary schools had the equivalent of a year or two in an American college. But he implied that what was true of the highly selective French, German and English secondary schools did not necessarily apply to the Soviet educational system and that the Soviet 10 or 11-year system did not, in fact, produce graduates two years ahead of those from our 12-year system.

He raised an even more telling point when he noted that Soviet enrollment statistics include students taking correspondence courses while U.S. figures exclude correspondence students.

Practicing his own statistical surgery, he proceeded to show that if correspondence students are excluded, the Soviets had a ratio of 65—not 111—students in their universities for every 10,000 in population. This according, to the Soviets' own tables, put the U.S.S.R. in a class with Outer Mongolia.

In the same vein, Mr. Rosen noted that Soviet statistics do not indicate how many of the 120,000 engineers claimed to have been graduated in 1960—as compared to 38,000 for the United States—were the product of correspondence courses.

Letters To The Editor

The mayor's recent reversal of form as to the wage tax, and his pathetic defense of such thinking, indicates there must be more than meets the eye to the picture.

Can our democratic form of Government succeed? Can the people trust those whom they elect to truly represent them, or don't the wishes of the majority count in East Liverpool?

The mayor stated that cutting back services would be a backward step. Does he mean services which are useful to the City, or the political plums which certain councilmen have doled out? Let's face it. This city is not what it used to be. The new road has taken nearly 200 houses and families, plus the trend toward the suburbs. Still our lawmakers want to live in the past when we had factories to help out with our tax duplicates.

The answer lies in the pruning of services that are no longer necessary, and there is considerable doubt if they ever were essential. The mayor's post is more or less honorary, yet some of our present councilmen increased the mayor's salary from $2,400 a year to $5,200 with no increase in duties or responsibilities. They even increased their own salaries 33 per cent, and even now city employes are clamoring for wage increases when they know the money isn't there. One group of city employes asked the previous Council to openly defy the wishes of its people and re-enact the wage tax, as the mayor is now asking.

Could it be that those who are so dedicated toward shoving the wage tax down the throats of its unwilling citizens have some personal interest in its passage? When income is restricted in our family lives we are forced to economize. Those city employes who believe themselves to be more valuable than their present positions can afford to pay them should offer their service and skills to private industry if they are unhappy with their lot.

Can our democratic form of Government succeed? Yes, it can, but, only when due and proper respect is given to the wishes of the electorate. Those who flaunt the will of the people will rightfully be rewarded with ignominious oblivion. Those who respect and nurture it will be given an honorable place in the lives and memories where mankind gathers together. Our whole political structure would benefit greatly if we had more servants like Councilman Frank Duffy.

To The Leopards!

It's on to Pittsburgh—and points east, if possible—for the Lincoln High School basketball team of Midland which captured the WPIAL Section 8 title and completed the school's first perfect cage season in history Tuesday night by defeating Monaca.

Perfect seasons are few and far between in any sport, so congratulations are in order to the players, the coaching staff, the student body and fans in general.

Midland can be proud of its high school basketball team. As a neighbor and friendly rival, East Liverpool would have no objections whatever if the Leopards went all the way and brought home the trophy symbolic of state champion in Pennsylvania.

A Message Soft And Clear

Defense Secretary McNamara said on his return to Washington from a third Hawaiian conference on the Viet Nam problem in two months that "some of these wars have lasted for as long as 10 years in other parts of the world, but I am hopeful this will not be the case in South Viet Nam."

Secretary McNamara was giving us a message — soft and clear, as is his style. He was telling us the United States, having made a commitment to keep Communist guerillas from taking over South Viet Nam, is involved in another Asiatic garrison policy, like the one in Korea.

He means there has been added to Korea and West Germany, including Berlin, a third place where U.S. military personnel and equipment must stay indefinitely to maintain a status quo that would evaporate if the United States pulled out and created a military vacuum.

He means the United States has exposed itself to one more possibility of attack in a distant place surrounded by hostile forces; that once more it intends to gear a faltering foreign economy so closely to U.S. wealth that departure would precipitate disaster.

Secretary McNamara seems to be preparing us for another of those frustrating military messes in which victory is impossible and defeat unthinkable.

Dear Nephew: I see in the papers that old-timers are holding their noses in the air because people are having fun at White House parties.

One newspaper columnist, David Lawrence, threw a typographical conniption fit over this and sounded to me as if he might be getting ready to start impeachment proceedings on grounds the Kennedys are detracting from official dignity. You might have thought Mr. Lawrence was 107 years old, though he won't even be 74 until next December, they told me at the library. That isn't so old.

How I ever got to be unofficial apologist for Jack and Jacqueline Kennedy is a question, but I feel it's my duty to object when their fellow citizens snipe at them out of malice. I don't believe we can afford to indulge ourselves in malice against the official family of the United States. Moreover, I never have believed any of us has a God-given right to be malicious.

I am glad people are having a good time at White House parties, because I have read so many accounts of how much fun people haven't had at White House parties. The trouble has been that the parties were not held with the idea of having fun but only with the idea of going through certain stiff formalities. White House parties have been stuffy, according to what I've read.

There's nothing stuffy about the young Kennedys and their friends, and the unstuffiest thing about them is their refusal to pretend to be stuffy. They are apparently not upset by the thought of being sniffed at by disapproving elders. Maybe they figure that disapproving elders will be offset by approving elders, and your Aunt Effie and I would like to be included among the latter.

When we were the Kennedys' age we stayed up all night if the party was good enough to stay up for. We did this with the approval of the only elders whose opinion we valued — the people who had brought us into the world and who had stayed up all night in their time.

There won't be many occasions worth staying up for so it's important to make the most of each one. Come to think about it, there won't be too many occasions in a lifetime when we will have dancing feet in the White House, and we should make the most of them.

I know this is connected with what is considered to be the proper presidential image. Our stuffed shirts always would have the chief executive and his lady look like them—and their overstuffed wives.

Me, I want my chief executive and his lady to look like themselves — young and with their arthritis and varicose veins still remotely distant. I even promise to learn the Twist if they'll invite me to their next hoedown.

Your spry old aunt insists she can do it without a lesson — says she learned when we were first married and I hitched her up for spring plowing before we could afford two horses. There's a gal who made staying up all night to laugh and holler and jump around seem like a privilege.

Regards to all your folks and yours for more fun everywhere, not just in the White House.

The Once Over

New York, like many cities, is having a dispute over parking privileges given to doctors in areas of traffic congestion. Henry A. Barnes, new traffic chief, has been talking to physicians about it, and following is an imaginary conversation:

Chief (approaching doctor's car): May I have a word with you.

Doctor: What's your ailment?

Chief: High blood pressure from trying to ease traffic jams, especially with respect to doctors' automobiles.

Doctor: I am just leaving hospital after being up all night. My office is full of sick people. And you want me to worry over my auto!

Chief: I appreciate your problem, but think physicians are overdoing their special parking rights. They're putting traffic on the sick list.

Doctor (impatiently): Can't we discuss this at my office?

Chief: No. It would mean I only could see you by appointment!

Doctor: Do you really think a physician up to his neck in work should be worried about a parking meter?

Chief: Traffic is on the danger list and needs fast treatment.

Doctor: Yes, but you want to operate before the diagnosis. You're telling me THIS when my office has two people with broken legs, four with sprained ankles and a man with a dislocated shoulder!

Chief: You've got to be more reasonable.

Doctor: If you were flat on your back needing a doctor would you want him to spend time hunting around for a parking place?

Chief: If my problem gets much worse I'll be flat on my back and have to make a judgment. Incidentally your wife parked your car beside a hydrant on wrong side of a one-way street while she shopped yesterday. Don't you think you should make her stop this?

Doctor: Mister, I'm only a physician, not a miracle worker! Women are women.

A Subtle Approach?

Johnson Eyes Labor Integration

By Victor Riesel

From now on the vice president of the United States will attempt to see to it that the nation's most celebrated labor chiefs and the unions they lead practice what they preach on racial equality.

Victor Riesel

In a private meeting in his office last Thursday, Feb. 15—which was not fully reported — Lyndon Johnson told two NAACP leaders his next major project would be the desegregation of American labor.

The man from Texas told Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, and Herbert Hill, its national labor secretary, that he wanted more than promises. Mr. Johnson said he would move on a formal basis in 30 days.

He has been talking privately with such labor leaders as George Meany and Walter Reuther. He has talked hard and earnestly with other union executives at social functions in the White House, in the Labor Department and at private luncheons.

MR. JOHNSON said that now he was ready to call the labor men for official chats. He said he wanted action. He indicated he desired signed agreements. He told his visitors—with Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg nodding assent at his side—that the organized political strength of the unions involved would not influence him.

He listened carefully as his NAACP visitors told him that it is easier for a Negro craftsman to join and stay in a union in the South than in the North. In the skilled construction trades unions, that is.

He listened as they said that virtually all of the 25,000 or so men in the rapidly dwindling ranks of skilled Negro workers are in Southern unions — segregated locals—but still inside them. He heard his intense callers say that there are thousands of Northern locals in which there is not a single Negro.

This includes locals of the operating engineers, the iron workers, the sheet metal workers, the plumbers, the carpenters, the boilermakers, the rail unions.

They pointed out that despite the declarations of some rail union leaders there is, for example, not a single ticket clerk in the depots of the land—the North included.

HERBERT HILL told the vice president that there is not a single Negro in the Washington electrical workers union. Its men have worked on such vast projects as the congressional office buildings and the 12th street expressway.

Even the AFL - CIO national headquarters had to be built without a single Negro electrical worker. This Local 26, IBEW does not have a single Negro member.

In some cities such as New York and Cleveland, as well as Washington, D.C., there are locals with one, sometimes two, Negroes. Hill said the NAACP had tried for the seven years since the AFL-CIO merger to get action—especially from the construction trades. He has not had any results he said.

Hill added that he "would not waste time and the NAACP's money" going to the AFL-CIO Executive Council sessions in Bal Harbour.

The vice president listened as Hill charged that "All we get is pious fakery, but no real action where it counts."

The NAACP officials pointed out four union methods of keeping Negroes out of their unions and from the skilled trades. These are:

There is outright exclusion. If specific non-Negro membership clauses are removed, then the exclusion is by tacit consent. Some of these unions are led by members of labor's high command itself.

There are segregated locals.

There are separate racial seniority lists.

Refusal to accept Negroes as apprentices. This prevents Negroes from learning skills.

IT WON'T BE as easy to force labor to practice what it preaches as it was for the vice president's committee on equal employment opportunity to line up some 52 major coprorations. The government can penalize the industrialists by denying government contracts to their companies.

But it now develops there is no real power to compel the unions to comply. There, furthermore are virtually no statistics on which to act. But there will be once Mr. Johnson gets the vital data he's now collecting on 15.5 million employes of 38,000 corporations.

If the vice president fails, the NAACP is preparing to go into court so it can get its people into the factories as they got their children into the schools!

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Ruth Brokaw was elected junior president of the Meg Latimer Society, Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Pauline Taylor Weinhardt of East Liverpool presented a program of popular songs over radio station KDKA Pittsburgh.

It Gets Around

The recent discovery of a layer of sulfur gets into almost everything, the National Geographic Society says.

The average man's body contains about one-quarter of 1 per cent sulfur. He wakes to the tinkle of an alarm clock whose steel was "pickled" in sulfuric acid, a compound second only to water in industrial use. He washes with soap processed with the help of a sulfuric acid and puts on clothes bleached by sulfur dioxide or dyed with sulfur compounds.

He drinks orange juice from trees protected by sulfur-containing fungicides and eats cereals that would never have reached his table but for fertilizers made with sulfuric acid. For his coffee, he may take sugar, refined with the help of sulfur, and cream from a cow, which, like every other living thing, requires sulfur to survive.

Climbing into his car, he starts the motor with a storage battery containing sulfuric acid. A spark ignites gasoline, refined by sulfuric acid; the wheels turn on sulfur - valcanized rubber.

He works in a building that sulfur made possible — from the explosives that dug the foundation to the last drop of paint on the interior walls.

Russians Distort School Enrollment Figures

A new weapon has cropped up in the Cold War propaganda battle. We are now, it seems, involved in a debate over whether the United States or the Soviet Union has more "university" students in proportion to total population.

The statistical skirmish started last October with the publication of "Vysshee Obrazovanie v SSSR (Higher Education in the U.S.S.R.) by the Central Satistical Administration of the U.S.S.R. Council of Ministers.

The publication, attempted to prove that the Soviet Union was substantially ahead of the United States in the university student-to-total population ratio.

U.S. enrollments "according to published official American statistics," were given as 3.37 million out of a total population of 177.7 million for a ratio of 190 students per 10,000 population.

This was substantially better than the Soviet claim to a ratio of 111 per 10,000 based on enrollments of 2.39 million and a total population of 216.14 million during the 1960,61 school year.

THE BOOK then proceeded to provide a second set of statistics for the United States—the only country among the 57 listed in the tabulation to be so treated.

The second set of figure excludes all enrollments in two-year junior or community colleges, all enrollments in the first two years of all other American colleges and universities, and all doctoral candidates.

The result of this statistical surgery is a United States ratio of 102 students in "higher education" to every 10,000 persons. This is based on an enrollment of 1.81 million, thus indicating that the United States is lagging behind the Soviet Union in both enrollments and the student-to-population ratio.

All this was justified in the only page of text, aside from the introduction, in a volume devoted to hundreds of statistical tables.

"Data for the United States of America published by American official statistics," the explanation read, "include students of junior colleges, which are not higher educational institutions, and students in the first two years of other colleges and higher educational institutions, which is level of training are regarded as the senior classes of secondary school."

This contention was backed up by quotations from a number of Western sources, including a 1935 statistical survey published by the United States Office of Education, to the effect that the completion of the first one or two years of an American college program is the equivalent of completion of a European secondary school.

The Soviets equated a European secondary school with their own and thus tried to establish that 12 years of American secondary schooling and two years in college were the equivalent of the 10 or 11 year program now provided by the Soviet primary-secondary schools.

THE SOVIETS' new propaganda gambit was uncovered by Seymour M. Rosen, specialist in comparative education for Eastern Europe in the U.S. Office of Education, and outlined in the current issue of "Higher Education," an official Office of Education periodical.

Mr. Rosen proceeded to take up the cudgels for our side.

In the first place, he said, the Soviets' "Mosaic of selected data and generalizations" would lead others to "an inaccurate impression of our colleges and universities."

He did not deny the Soviet contention that graduates of "European" secondary schools had the equivalent of a year or two in an American college. But he implied that what was true of the highly selective French, German and English secondary schools did not necessarily apply to the Soviet educational system and that the Soviet 10 or 11-year system did not, in fact, produce graduates two years ahead of those from our 12-year system.

He raised an even more telling point when he noted that Soviet enrollment statistics include students taking correspondence courses while U.S. figures exclude correspondence students.

Practicing his own statistical surgery, he proceeded to show that if correspondence students are excluded, the Soviets had a ratio of 65—not 111—students in their universities for every 10,000 in population. This according, to the Soviets' own tables, put the U.S.S.R. in a class with Outer Mongolia.

In the same vein, Mr. Rosen noted that Soviet statistics do not indicate how many of the 120,000 engineers claimed to have been graduated in 1960—as compared to 38,000 for the United States—were the product of correspondence courses.

Letters To The Editor

The mayor's recent reversal of form as to the wage tax, and his pathetic defense of such thinking, indicates there must be more than meets the eye to the picture.

Can our democratic form of Government succeed? Can the people trust those whom they elect to truly represent them, or don't the wishes of the majority count in East Liverpool?

The mayor stated that cutting back services would be a backward step. Does he mean services which are useful to the City, or the political plums which certain councilmen have doled out? Let's face it. This city is not what it used to be. The new road has taken nearly 200 houses and families, plus the trend toward the suburbs. Still our lawmakers want to live in the past when we had factories to help out with our tax duplicates.

The answer lies in the pruning of services that are no longer necessary, and there is considerable doubt if they ever were essential. The mayor's post is more or less honorary, yet some of our present councilmen increased the mayor's salary from $2,400 a year to $5,200 with no increase in duties or responsibilities. They even increased their own salaries 33 per cent, and even now city employes are clamoring for wage increases when they know the money isn't there. One group of city employes asked the previous Council to openly defy the wishes of its people and re-enact the wage tax, as the mayor is now asking.

Could it be that those who are so dedicated toward shoving the wage tax down the throats of its unwilling citizens have some personal interest in its passage? When income is restricted in our family lives we are forced to economize. Those city employes who believe themselves to be more valuable than their present positions can afford to pay them should offer their service and skills to private industry if they are unhappy with their lot.

Can our democratic form of Government succeed? Yes, it can, but, only when due and proper respect is given to the wishes of the electorate. Those who flaunt the will of the people will rightfully be rewarded with ignominious oblivion. Those who respect and nurture it will be given an honorable place in the lives and memories where mankind gathers together. Our whole political structure would benefit greatly if we had more servants like Councilman Frank Duffy.

Water Board' Protest Set In Pollution

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening decided to protest to the Pennsylvania Department of Health offices at Harrisburg and Meadville over pollution of the Ohio River, which has affected the taste and smell of borough water.

The authority decided on the action following a motion by Rudolph Presutti and a report by Donald Craik, water department manager.

Craik said an odd ordor was noticed a week ago and chemical changes were made but the odor and taste continued. He said he contacted the department of health and on Thursday the Petroleum Sovents Co. at Vanport, Koppers and the St. Joseph Lead Co.

He said there was a resin in the water. The condition ceased Saturday after a three-day flushing of an oil barge at the Petrolsol plant at Vanport. He said precautions are taken by the company during barge flushings.

Craik said a different smell was noticed in the water about two weeks ago.

Granville Kester, a Michael Baker Jr., Inc., engineer for the authority, reported on the automation study his company was asked a few months ago to make.

He said the automation will save manpower and simplify some operations but is not meant to reduce the water department staff.

The cost would be $30,700 or $46,200, according to the amount of equipment desired, and could mean a savings of $105,000 over a 40-year period.

The authority authorized the Michael Baker firm to make a study for increasing filtration of the plant after Kester pointed out that the best way to save on operating expenses is to enlarge the plant facilities.

The authority previously had approved a study by the firm on increasing pumping facilities. Discussion brought out that 85 million gallons of water were treated in January and the plant is rated at 90 million.

Myron A. Wayne, sanitary engineer for Michael Baker, also attended.

The firm was also asked to make a study for the need of a grit chamber at the new sewage treatment plant after a motion by Larry Cuccaro. Craik said filtration of the sanitary system is occurring.

The authority approved the purchase of a buffing machine, estimated to cost about $150, and a PH Meter for testing water.

Craik said the color kits for testing water wear out. They cost $32 and a gallon of solution also $32. The water plant uses three gallons a year of each color. The cost of the meter is $354.

Improvements for the plant and office suggested by the water manager was tabled for study. The authority voted to continue its membership in the Pennsylvania Municipal Authority Association.

A representative of the Hartford Insurance Co. attended and explained steam boiler insurance for the water plant. He will return Tuesday morning for a tour of the plant and to consult with Craik and engineers on the amount of coverage needed.

A representative of the Thermo-Fax copying machine firm demonstrated his product. The authority will study its feasibility.

Water department bills of $10,981.07 and sewage plant bills of $20,977.42 were ordered paid. Sullivan Tonti, vice chairman, presided in the absence of Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, who is attending a dental convention in Chicago.

Next meeting is March 21.

The authority authorized the Michael Baker firm to make a study for increasing filtration of the plant after Kester pointed out that the best way to save on operating expenses is to enlarge the plant facilities.

The authority previously had approved a study by the firm on increasing pumping facilities. Discussion brought out that 85 million gallons of water were treated in January and the plant is rated at 90 million.

Myron A. Wayne, sanitary engineer for Michael Baker, also attended.

The firm was also asked to make a study for the need of a grit chamber at the new sewage treatment plant after a motion by Larry Cuccaro. Craik said filtration of the sanitary system is occurring.

The authority approved the purchase of a buffing machine, estimated to cost about $150, and a PH Meter for testing water.

Craik said the color kits for testing water wear out. They cost $32 and a gallon of solution also $32. The water plant uses three gallons a year of each color. The cost of the meter is $354.

Improvements for the plant and office suggested by the water manager was tabled for study. The authority voted to continue its membership in the Pennsylvania Municipal Authority Association.

A representative of the Hartford Insurance Co. attended and explained steam boiler insurance for the water plant. He will return Tuesday morning for a tour of the plant and to consult with Craik and engineers on the amount of coverage needed.

A representative of the Thermo-Fax copying machine firm demonstrated his product. The authority will study its feasibility.

Water department bills of $10,981.07 and sewage plant bills of $20,977.42 were ordered paid. Sullivan Tonti, vice chairman, presided in the absence of Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, who is attending a dental convention in Chicago.

Next meeting is March 21.

The Martins Ferry plant is about the same size as blacktop facilities the concern also operates at Mingo Junction and Weirton. Its largest and newest installation is the one at Benwood, the company said. The Benwood plant went into operation last summer.

Traffic

said. The crash was timed at 11:04 a.m.

A skid also was blamed for a collision at 11 a. m. at Baum and Jackson Sts. which damaged a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Clayton R. Marshall, 18, of 224 W. North Ave., East Palestine, and a parked 1958 sedan owned by Roy G. Sell of Allison St., officers said.

Marshall told police he was driving north on Jackson and turning west onto Baum when his car skidded on snowy pavement and hit the left front door of Sell's car, parked on the north side of Baum St.

Clark Jones, 414 Walnut St., told police the left rear fender and tail light of his 1958 sedan were damaged while it was parked overnight in Pleasant Alley at Apple Alley.

Jones said he parked the auto at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and discovered the damage at 5:40 this morning.

Meanwhile, Edward H. Cubberly, 105 E. 3rd St., told police the rear of his 1959 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip mishap early today while parked on the city - owned lot at E. 3rd and Market Sts.

The owner's wife said she was in the home when she heard a crash, looked outside and saw a light blue car driving off the lot.

said. The crash was timed at 11:04 a.m.

A skid also was blamed for a collision at 11 a. m. at Baum and Jackson Sts. which damaged a 1960 two-door sedan driven by Clayton R. Marshall, 18, of 224 W. North Ave., East Palestine, and a parked 1958 sedan owned by Roy G. Sell of Allison St., officers said.

Marshall told police he was driving north on Jackson and turning west onto Baum when his car skidded on snowy pavement and hit the left front door of Sell's car, parked on the north side of Baum St.

Clark Jones, 414 Walnut St., told police the left rear fender and tail light of his 1958 sedan were damaged while it was parked overnight in Pleasant Alley at Apple Alley.

Jones said he parked the auto at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and discovered the damage at 5:40 this morning.

Meanwhile, Edward H. Cubberly, 105 E. 3rd St., told police the rear of his 1959 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip mishap early today while parked on the city - owned lot at E. 3rd and Market Sts.

The owner's wife said she was in the home when she heard a crash, looked outside and saw a light blue car driving off the lot.

Reducers Exult Over New Health

Most overweight women want to slim down in order to look better, but when they succeed in reducing they are pleasantly surprised at how much better they feel, physically and mentally. The note of joy at the new feeling of buoyancy expressed in reports from successful reducers gives a hopeful glimpse of what it means to be rid of the burdensome pounds.

Ida Jean Kain

Look over my shoulder at these reports from triumphant dieters.

"I have lost 20 pounds and have 10 more to go. Tell your overweights that slimming down certainly does something for one's mental outlook. I no longer feel bogged down."

Too old to reduce? Read this report ...

—:—

"TELL YOUR overweight women that losing the excess fat will make a world of difference in the way they feel. A year ago I weighed 190 pounds.

"I have lost 40 pounds and have five more to go. I am almost sixty years old, I haven't felt so well in years. My doctor is most satisfied with the results of my dieting. I can't thank you enough for your daily encouragement. I'll never, never be fat again," she concluded.

To anyone who has 50 or more excess pounds to lose, this letter will be particularly encouraging...

"If you recall, several years ago you helped me to reduce from 200 pounds down to 130. I have held this weight loss now for more than two years. Since I am very short, 4 feet 10, my doctor has advised me to lose another 20 pounds.

"I am 50 years old and I want to tell you that I never felt better than while I was on your protective diet losing two pounds a week. I'm really eager to start dieting again."

The proof of any reducing pattern is how you feel while dieting and afterwards; also how much you weigh a year after you've finished dieting. This dieter obviously changed her food habits for good.

—:—

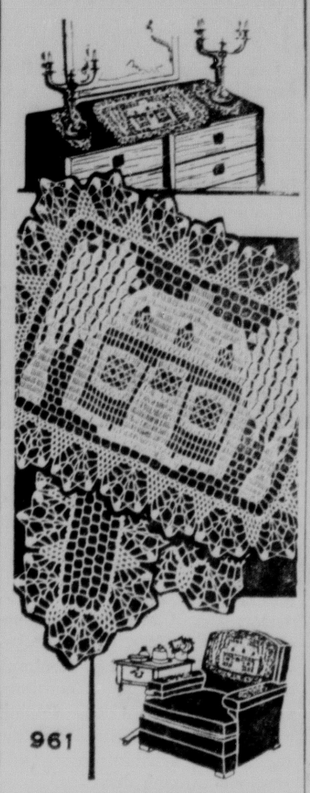

OVERWEIGHTS, set a goal. If you start on a protective 1,000 or 1,100 calorie diet this week, by Easter Sunday, April 22, you can easily be 15 pounds lighter, perhaps 20 pounds lighter.

You can wear an outfit a size smaller by Easter Sunday. More important, you will have a newfound zest. After you have taken off the excess fat without going hungry or losing your bounce, your thinking will continue on the positive side.

Then, instead of just reading success stories, you can be writing one!

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Strange Historical Event Related

Most of our children have learned at school about Lafayette; how he, a rich young man of France, helped us win our independence how he used his own money and hired a ship to come to America, paid his own soldiers and brought all their supplies, arms and ammunition; even bought clothes for American soldiers; how Lafayette and all his male heirs were, later, given American citizenship. But not many of us parents and our children know about the son of Lafayette who, while Washington was President, came to the United States, and the embarrassing time Washington had because of this boy.

OF COURSE THE French government did not want the senior Lafayette to come here in the first place. When Lafayette came to America, his family left behind in France, especially Madame Lafayette and her son George Washington Lafayette, were in great danger.

Remembering that her son and husband had been made citizens of the United States, Madame Lafayette obtained a passport for her son and his tutor, using assumed names. Then she wrote President Washington that her son and his tutor were coming to America.

By this time France and England were at war, so the Americans were split into two groups, the French Party and the English Party. But such leaders as Washington, Jefferson, Adams and Hamilton were determined that America remain neutral.

SO WASHINGTON could not receive Lafayette's son into his home without the risk of offending the English government.

When the boy and his tutor arrived in Boston, no one came to meet and welcome them. They wrote President Washington, asking what they should do. For weeks, Washington did not answer. Naturally the boy could not understand why his father's dear friend treated him in this way.

Finally Washington's political enemies, thinking they could embarrass him, got a resolution through Congress asking young Lafayette to come to Philadelphia, then the capital of the United States. This made it possible for Washington to take the boy into his home.

Years passed and finally, in 1824, the two Lafayettes came back to America and visited Mount Vernon. But George Washington was not there to meet them. He had died in 1799, and Martha Washington a few years later.

This story is told more at length by Mabelle Martin in the February issue of "Highlights for Children."

Palestine's Chamber To Sell 6-Acre Tract

EAST PALESTINE — The Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday night disclosed an agreement to sell an additional six acres of the Chamber's industrial site to the Insul Co.

The firm, which manufactures "hot tops" for area steel mills, recently purchased seven acres of the site west of the city power plant with the option to buy more. Additional buildings are planned for the site, it was announced.

The sale price was $200 an acre.

The group heard Mayor Robert Harding discuss the proposed annexation of seven sections to the city as a basic sanitary sewer district, and Atty. Robert Hartford spoke on legal aspects of the annexation plan.

It was announced the paid membership is currently 33. Atty. D. B. Dickson, president, was in charge.

Gosney Will Speak To Wellsville Group

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, will be guest speaker at the first general membership meeting of the Progressive Democratic Club of Wellsville Monday night at 8 at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Wellsville Council president, also will speak. Members of the club's executive board will give brief remarks.

Ernest Gibson is chairman. Mrs. Sevella Travers and committee will be in charge of refreshments.

Explorers Club Hears Talk On Primitive Dog

Richard S. Thompson, secretary, spoke on "The Relationship Between Dog and Man" at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Harry R. Cline of Hillcrest, Wellsville.

Thompson said the relationship started long before the beginning of recorded history. He said anthroplogists believe dogs played a part in man's life as far back as some five million years ago.

Primitive man found the dog a beast which could be controlled, one whose instincts could be fashioned to his own and whose natural talents complemented his own. The dog has more highly developed senses of hearing and smelling and is much more fleet.

The dog hunted game for man and helped fight off marauding beasts of prey. Indians also kept dogs.

James Monte screened a movie on the 155th anniversary celebration at Wellsville in 1950. Cline reported the club has two new books on exploring, donated by John Fitch of Lisbon.

Jim Woodrow reported on a field trip made by the club in the Hollow Rock area.

A discussion on the club's newsletter will be held at the meeting March 5 at 7 p. m. at the home of Thompson, 2212 Ohio Ave.

Wellsville PTA Salutes Faculty

A salute to the teachers was read by Mrs. Wanda Hanlon, past president, in commemoration of Founder's Day observed by the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association of Wellsville Monday night.

The entire sixth grade of Joseph Caparossi presented a humorous skit, "The Slip of Slippery Sam, the Sneak," with the audience hissing the villain and applauding the hero.

The Rev. William Carswell of the First Baptist Church conducted devotions and Mrs. Leonard Kinzel, president, was in charge of business. Announcement was made that the County PTA Council will hold an open meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. at Westgate School in East Liverpool. The topic will be "Where Children Come First." The East District PTA conference was announced for April 2 at Steubenville. Miss Margaret Frischkorn, principal announced the city spelling bee March 21 and the county bee April 6 at Beaver Local School.

The sixth grade won the attendance banner and Mrs. Genevieve Heaton won a cake. Refreshments were served by the social committee and a candy sale was held. Next meeting is March 19.

Chamber Erects Sign To Mark New Offices

A new sign was erected over the sidewalk on E. 5th St. Tuesday afternoon to mark the entrance to the new second-floor quarters of the Chamber of Commerce.

Made of heavy white plastic, it carries in blue lettering the legend: "East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce." The Chamber occupied the offices about three months ago, moving from another site on W. 6th St. at Jackson St.

The sign hangs at right angles to the sidewalk, so that it is visible both east and west on E. 5th E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager, said it was erected to point out the office location for visitors, particularly those from out-of-town.

OVERWEIGHTS, set a goal. If you start on a protective 1,000 or 1,100 calorie diet this week, by Easter Sunday, April 22, you can easily be 15 pounds lighter, perhaps 20 pounds lighter.

You can wear an outfit a size smaller by Easter Sunday. More important, you will have a newfound zest. After you have taken off the excess fat without going hungry or losing your bounce, your thinking will continue on the positive side.

Then, instead of just reading success stories, you can be writing one!

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Wellsville PTA Salutes Faculty

A salute to the teachers was read by Mrs. Wanda Hanlon, past president, in commemoration of Founder's Day observed by the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association of Wellsville Monday night.

The entire sixth grade of Joseph Caparossi presented a humorous skit, "The Slip of Slippery Sam, the Sneak," with the audience hissing the villain and applauding the hero.

The Rev. William Carswell of the First Baptist Church conducted devotions and Mrs. Leonard Kinzel, president, was in charge of business. Announcement was made that the County PTA Council will hold an open meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. at Westgate School in East Liverpool. The topic will be "Where Children Come First." The East District PTA conference was announced for April 2 at Steubenville. Miss Margaret Frischkorn, principal announced the city spelling bee March 21 and the county bee April 6 at Beaver Local School.

The sixth grade won the attendance banner and Mrs. Genevieve Heaton won a cake. Refreshments were served by the social committee and a candy sale was held. Next meeting is March 19.

Chamber Erects Sign To Mark New Offices

A new sign was erected over the sidewalk on E. 5th St. Tuesday afternoon to mark the entrance to the new second-floor quarters of the Chamber of Commerce.

Made of heavy white plastic, it carries in blue lettering the legend: "East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce." The Chamber occupied the offices about three months ago, moving from another site on W. 6th St. at Jackson St.

The sign hangs at right angles to the sidewalk, so that it is visible both east and west on E. 5th E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager, said it was erected to point out the office location for visitors, particularly those from out-of-town.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Strange Historical Event Related

Most of our children have learned at school about Lafayette; how he, a rich young man of France, helped us win our independence how he used his own money and hired a ship to come to America, paid his own soldiers and brought all their supplies, arms and ammunition; even bought clothes for American soldiers; how Lafayette and all his male heirs were, later, given American citizenship. But not many of us parents and our children know about the son of Lafayette who, while Washington was President, came to the United States, and the embarrassing time Washington had because of this boy.

OF COURSE THE French government did not want the senior Lafayette to come here in the first place. When Lafayette came to America, his family left behind in France, especially Madame Lafayette and her son George Washington Lafayette, were in great danger.

Remembering that her son and husband had been made citizens of the United States, Madame Lafayette obtained a passport for her son and his tutor, using assumed names. Then she wrote President Washington that her son and his tutor were coming to America.

By this time France and England were at war, so the Americans were split into two groups, the French Party and the English Party. But such leaders as Washington, Jefferson, Adams and Hamilton were determined that America remain neutral.

SO WASHINGTON could not receive Lafayette's son into his home without the risk of offending the English government.

When the boy and his tutor arrived in Boston, no one came to meet and welcome them. They wrote President Washington, asking what they should do. For weeks, Washington did not answer. Naturally the boy could not understand why his father's dear friend treated him in this way.

Finally Washington's political enemies, thinking they could embarrass him, got a resolution through Congress asking young Lafayette to come to Philadelphia, then the capital of the United States. This made it possible for Washington to take the boy into his home.

Years passed and finally, in 1824, the two Lafayettes came back to America and visited Mount Vernon. But George Washington was not there to meet them. He had died in 1799, and Martha Washington a few years later.

This story is told more at length by Mabelle Martin in the February issue of "Highlights for Children."

Explorers Club Hears Talk On Primitive Dog

Richard S. Thompson, secretary, spoke on "The Relationship Between Dog and Man" at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Harry R. Cline of Hillcrest, Wellsville.

Thompson said the relationship started long before the beginning of recorded history. He said anthroplogists believe dogs played a part in man's life as far back as some five million years ago.

Primitive man found the dog a beast which could be controlled, one whose instincts could be fashioned to his own and whose natural talents complemented his own. The dog has more highly developed senses of hearing and smelling and is much more fleet.

The dog hunted game for man and helped fight off marauding beasts of prey. Indians also kept dogs.

James Monte screened a movie on the 155th anniversary celebration at Wellsville in 1950. Cline reported the club has two new books on exploring, donated by John Fitch of Lisbon.

Jim Woodrow reported on a field trip made by the club in the Hollow Rock area.

A discussion on the club's newsletter will be held at the meeting March 5 at 7 p. m. at the home of Thompson, 2212 Ohio Ave.

Adjudged Insane

CINCINNATI (AP)—Steril Fox, 33, has been adjudged insane and will be committed to Lima State Hospital until such time as he can face trial for second-degree murder in the death of his wife, Shirley. Mrs. Fox was shot six times during an attack last Nov. 1.

Palestine's Chamber To Sell 6-Acre Tract

EAST PALESTINE — The Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday night disclosed an agreement to sell an additional six acres of the Chamber's industrial site to the Insul Co.

The firm, which manufactures "hot tops" for area steel mills, recently purchased seven acres of the site west of the city power plant with the option to buy more. Additional buildings are planned for the site, it was announced.

The sale price was $200 an acre.

The group heard Mayor Robert Harding discuss the proposed annexation of seven sections to the city as a basic sanitary sewer district, and Atty. Robert Hartford spoke on legal aspects of the annexation plan.

It was announced the paid membership is currently 33. Atty. D. B. Dickson, president, was in charge.

Gosney Will Speak To Wellsville Group

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, will be guest speaker at the first general membership meeting of the Progressive Democratic Club of Wellsville Monday night at 8 at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Wellsville Council president, also will speak. Members of the club's executive board will give brief remarks.

Ernest Gibson is chairman. Mrs. Sevella Travers and committee will be in charge of refreshments.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The company my husband worked for dropped the retirement age for men to 62. They should have raised it to 95.

My husband is able bodied and in excellent health. He looks about 50. He retired 10 weeks ago and I am ready to check into a mental institution just to get away from him.

He follows me around the house like a puppy and monitors my telephone conversations as if he were with the FBI. Everywhere I go he tags along — even to the beauty shop.

Five evenings a week he invites people to dinner and tells me about it later. He says he wants "a little excitement at night" because he doesn't do much all day. I have to cook for the gang and clean up the mess after they leave.

What do you think about me taking a job as an out? Well—I'll be darned! That's exactly what I'll do. Don't even bother to answer this letter, Ann. You've been a great help. — FREE AT LAST.

College Gossips

Dear Ann: My nephew is a sophomore in college. He had a poker game the other evening and while I was in the kitchen fixing sandwiches I heard their conversation.

Either times have changed a great deal since I was a young girl or I was a first-class dummy. I always thought a young man made it a point of honor to protect his girl friend's reputation.

Every fellow present that evening contributed something to the conversation — using names and places. This is the way the girls were rated:

Category A: "Leadpipe Cinch."

Category B: "Difficult but Collapsible."

Category C: "Iffy."

Category D: "No Dice. Save Your Energy."

I must say I was appalled to hear these young men (between 19 and 22 years of age) exchanging intimate details about the gils they had dated. If the girls could have listened in, as I did, I'm sure they would not be so free with their favors in the future. — OLD MAID AUNT.

-:-

Dear Old Maid Aunt: Thanks for your letter. I hope it shakes up a few of the chicks who write to me and say they aren't behaving as well as they should but no one ever will know because the fellow is "honorable and decent and would never say a word."

Public Relations

Dear Ann: My fiance is in public relations work. He has an outgoing personality. I am shy and reserved.

When Tom takes me to civic affairs or social gatherings I find myself alone 90 per cent of the time. He is busy table hopping "winning friends and influencing people."

Recently we went to a banquet. Tom excused himself just before the dessert was served and said he'd be "right back." Two hours later the program was over and almost everyone had left. When the janitor started to sweep up the place some friends sensed my bewilderment and offered to drive me home.

Two days later my fiance phoned to find out "what had happened to me." Do you feel we could make a go of marriage? — STRANDED.

-:-

Dear Stranded: It depends on how much you're willing to take. A young man so inconsiderate of his fiancee that he waits two days to find out "what happened to her" doesn't sound like promising husband material.

Some women don't mind being kicked around. But if you do mind, don't marry this man because he sounds like an expert.

Confidentially

TO KANSAS CITY KATHERINE: You've got dimples — so what? so have I. A 16-year-old girl who would quit school to wear out the rugs in casting offices also has holes in her head —and those holes in your cheeks won't help you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Maj. Slayton Due For Next Space Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Now it's Donald K. (Deke) Slayton in the astronauts' go position.

Sometime in April, the muscular 37-year-old Air Force major will ride his own space capsule into orbit aboard Atlas 107D—already on its way to the launching pad. He will, that is, unless a combination of weather and technical troubles touch off a series of delays like those which thwarted spaceman John H. Glenn Jr. for so long.

Slayton, a ready man with a wisecrack, monitored Glenn's trail-blazing flight Tuesday from the Mercury control center at the Cape. Then he flew down the missle range to Grand Turk Island to welcome Glenn back from space with a vigorous handshake.

Glenn, Slayton and astronaut Scott Carpenter soon had their heads together in animated conversation about the jaunty Marine's orbital flight.

Slayton's flight will follow Glenn's trail—three orbits. However, he will have different assignments while whirling through space so more information can be obtained.

Slayton's backup pilot will be Walter Marty Schirra Jr., 38, a Navy commander from Hackensack, N.J.

Still waiting at the launch pad for a flight assignment are Scott Carpenter of Boulder, Colo., Gordon Cooper Jr. of Shawnee, Okla., and Schirra.

Robert L. Gilruth, Project Mercury director, said all will get their chance. Following the Slayton flight, he said, new pilot teams will be formed among the seven astronauts for later flights.

Slayton was born in Sparta, Wis., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Slayton, who live there now. He is married to the former Marjorie Lunney of Los Angeles, and they have one son, Kent.

Nominees Of Calcutta PTA Are Unopposed For Election

An unopposed slate of officers for the Calcutta Parent - Teacher Association was presented Monday night for election at the meeting March 19.

Robert Veness, vice president this year, automatically advances to the presidency to succeed John Duffy.

The slate reported by the committee includes Clayton Aughinbaugh, vice president; Mrs. Mildred Wilson, secretary, and Mrs. Janet Cairns, treasurer.

The nominating committee included Mrs. Martha Shelton, chairman, Mrs. Ruth Green and Mrs. Margaret Duffy.

Dr. Melbourne Burnett announced the Sabin oral vaccine will be available at the Calcutta fire station March 21 and 24.

He urged all persons regardless of age to receive the oral vaccine whether or not they have received the Salk polio vaccine. Children of school age will receive the vaccine at school, he added.

Aughinbaugh invited members to attend an open meeting of the Columbiana County PTA Council Tuesday night at Westgate School.

Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, president of the County Mental Health Association, spoke on mental health in children and screened a film, "The Umbrella."

Duffy, president, presided for business.

The first grade rooms of Mrs. Eleanor Rice, Mrs. Ann Kirkbride and Mrs. Lee Tice and the fourth grade room of Mrs. Marcia Vacar tied for the attendance banner.

Refreshments were served by the mothers' club.

Medical Society Gets Data On New Law

A recent Ohio law clearing the way for professional people to become incorporated was discussed by State Rep. Warren Bettis and investment representatives at a meeting of the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday night at the Hotel Wick at Lisbon. About 38 attended.

Bettis along with James Murphy of Lisbon, representative of L. A. Caunter & Co. discussed provisions of the law as it applies to attorneys, physicians, dentists and accountants.

Arrangements for the society's planned mass Sabin polio vaccine immunization program in March were discussed.

Dr. H. F. Banfield, president, was in charge.

Teacher And Student Have Convention Role

A city teacher and student will take part in a reading demonstration at the convention of the National Association of Secondary Principals at St. Louis Saturday.

Mrs. Dora Bee Poynter, 408 W. 4th St., reading teacher at the high school, will speak at the reading program, and Steven Neville, sophomore and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neville of Wyoming Ave., Pleasant Heights, will read.

They will leave Friday by plane for the convention, the theme of which is "Education's Role In Achieving National Goals."

Puree leftover cooked vegetables, with a little of their liquid, in an electric blender. Add to well-seasoned thin white sauce for a good soup. Make the white sauce with half stock, half milk.

New Library Book Concerns History Of Patent Medicine

"The Toadstool Millionaires," a social history of patent medicines, is among new books at the Carnegie Public Library.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said the author, James Harvey Young, had been pursuing filmed files of early newspapers when he realized that the ads for these cure-alls were retarding his study.

Prior to federal regulation in 1906, quacks operated and advertised without regulation, thus occupying quantities of newspaper space.

The title is stolen from Oliver Wendell Holmes who commented that "the purchasers of patent medicines build palaces for the mushroom." The one principle on which most quacks agreed was that their medicines should have a revolting taste.

A guaranteed source of chuckles is Leo Rosten's new satire on psychiatry in the Army. The author of "Captain Newman M.D." first poked fun successfully at adult education in "Hyman Kaplan." But this current novel which takes place on a desert Army base, dubbed the furnace, by the local G.I's, bids fair to attract as much attention.

A 20th anniversary edition of Lawrence Lariar's famous annual on cartoons includes 500 of "The Best of the Best Cartoons."

Several additional novels of note appear on this week's new shelf: "Devil Water," by Anya Seton, is a love and adventure tale which weaves a tapestry from both British and American history of 17th century; a TV producer, writer, and director has turned novelist, Leland Cooley, and his novel concerns a romance in the Cascade Mountains. The title "God's High Table." There are two tales with an equestrienne theme, "Pride of the Moor" by Vivan Smith and "Death of a Racehorse" by John Creasy.

With Science Fair season looming around the corner the new shelf also features a multitude of new publications on invention, electronics, and medicine:

"Yestertomorrow, notes on man's progress by Kurt Marek; "Roads to Discovery," by Ralph Lapp; "How Does It Work," by Richard M. Koff, "Electronics in Everyday Things," by William Vergara, "Basic Electricity for Communications," by William Timbie and revised by Frances Hacker, "Animal Behaviour," by J. L. Cloudley-Thompson, "Road to Modern Surgery," by Hugo Glaser, and "Numbers: Rational and Irrational" by Ivan Niven.

The scout leader or ardent camper should welcome Fell's official guide to "Knots and How to Tie Them." To raise the temperature of American numismatists to an even greater frenzy in collecting, Fred Reinfeld has compiled "A Treasury of American Coins" with illustrations and values.

Faces Life Term

CINCINNATI (AP)—Carl Bobby Roseman, 23, faces life imprisonment for the sledge-hammer slaying last April 4 of Robert Gau, 46. A jury convicted him Wednesday night.

Promotions Received By Elkton Boy Scouts

ELKTON — Thirteen members of Boy Scout Troop 108 received promotions and awards at a cov-erdish dinner and Court of Honor Tuesday night at the Elkton School.

Cited were Richard Harrold, Steven Harrold, Allen Moore, Dennis Harrold, Dale Moore, Dennis Dailey, David Dailey, Mike Milhoan, Raymond Crawford, Billy Gonter, Russell Exline, Garry Neville and Thomas Kidder.

Awards were made by George Eells, scoutmaster, Delmar Harrold, assistant scoutmaster, and Carl Anderson of East Palestine.

About 70 attended the event at which Anderson was guest speaker.

According to a recent survey, the quality most prized by American employers in a secretary is initiative, or the ability to think and act for herself.

United Wins, Meets Crestview Five Next

The Review Sports

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1962 PAGE 14

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A bunch of deadeye cagers from United pounded the nets at a 64 per cent clip in the first half and easily vaulted into the finals of the Columbiana County Class "A" tourney with a 71-46 victory over Salineville Wednesday night on the Beaver Local court.

Paced by the fine shooting of Jerry Schaffer, John Hanna and Jim Sturgeon in the first half, Coach Larry Joseph's team had an easy time advancing to a Saturday night's engagement with a strong Crestview team.

United and Crestview battle it out Saturday night in the championship game set for 8:30 p. m. The winner will advance to the Sectional "A" tournament at Canton. Action will get underway Saturday at 7 p. m. when Salineville and United reserve teams clash for the jayvee championship.

—:—

SCHAFFER, one of the district's leading scorers with a 19-point average, hit his average on the nose when he ended up with 19 points for a little less than three quarters of action Wednesday night.

The 5-foot-11 senior, who is the tallest starter on Joseph's small but good shooting five, found a spot on the right side of the basket about 20 feet out and went to work.

He scored 14 points on seven field goals in the first quarter and at one stretch made five straight fielders with his swishing one-handed jump shots.

WHILE Schaffer cooled off after the first period after he had done enough damage, Sturgeon and Hanna picked up the slack.

Sturgeon, at one period in the game, hit on four straight field goal attempts and wound up with 14 points for the evening. Hanna dropped in 10 of his 16 points in the second quarter.

The red hot shooting resulted in a 45-13 lead at halftime for the United team which went into the game with a 10-8 regular season record.

The Golden Eagles finished the evening with a 47 per cent mark while Salineville fired 40 per cent.

In losing, Jack Baker, another one of the leading point makers around the area, managed to score 22 points and tallied all seven of his team's points in the first quarter.

—:—

BAKER, who stands close to 6 feet, averaged over 18 points a game with a team that showed one victory in 18 outings this season.

Joseph emptied his bench midway through the third quarter as the starting five retired for the evening.

In the reserve tournament staged before Wednesday night's varsity event, Salineville staved off a late bid by Crestview to gain a 39-34 victory.

Delana Jenkins, a freshman, paced the Indians with 18 points while Dave Baker and Jack Hoff tallied 10 each for the Crestview jayvees.

UNITED—71
Schaffer 9-1-19; R. Hawkins 0-2-2; Sturgeon 7-0-14; Hanna 8-0-16; Marks 1-0-2; Bolen 2-0-4; Blythe 3-0-6; B. Hawkins 1-0-2; McGranahan 1-2-4; Schweigert 1-0-2. Totals 33-5-71.

Newell, Raiders In Tourney Bids

The Newell High Vikings, with their outstanding scoring twins Mick Staley and Dave Bell primed for warfare, open tournament action tonight when they face Bethany in the first round of the Section 1 tourney at Follansbee.

The game gets underway at 7 p. m. followed by the New Cumberland-West Liberty contest at 8:30.

Coach John Robison's Vikings already have delivered two victories over Bethany. In January, Newell nipped Bethany, 79-75, with Staley scoring 38 points. A month later at Newell, the Vikings edged Bethany again, 60-59, with Bell connecting for 27.

Together, Newell's one-two scoring punch carry a 46-point average into tonight's game. Bell scored 471 points in 20 regular season games for a 23.5 average and Staley has whipped 452 points through the hoops for a 22.6 mark.

Tonight's two survivors hook up in the championship match Saturday at 8 p. m.

Newell puts a 14-6 record on the line while New Cumberland shows a 5-14 mark.

Elsewhere tonight, Stanton Local has a semi-final match with Mt. Pleasant at 8:45 on the Brilliant High court. The winner of that contest faces the Springfield-Yorkville survivor for the Jefferson County championship Saturday night.

One other district team is busy tonight. Salem opens its tournament bid against Youngstown Woodrow Wilson on the South High floor.

Giants Lose Conerly To Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—At the age of 40 and after 14 tough and exciting National Football League seasons, Charley Conerly has retired as a New York Giants quarterback.

Conerly announced his decision Wednesday, then signed on with the Giants for scouting and public relations work.

"I decided I'd had enough. It gets tougher every year, physically and mostly mentally," he commented. "It was harder and harder to keep getting up week after week. As you get older you lose something."

Conerly originally was drafted by the Washington Redskins in 1945 while he was away in the Marines. After the war, he returned to the University of Mississippi, became a renowned passing star for the Rebels, and by the time he was ready for the NFL in 1948, was the property of the Giants.

Counting two divisional playoffs and four league title games, he completed 1,465 passes in 2,923 attempts for 20,259 yards and 177 touchdowns.

He remained the Giants' No. 1 quarterback until this past season, when he finally gave way to Y. A. Tittle, another old-line pro obtained from San Francisco.

Newell Joins Club League

The South Side Athletic Club Tuesday evening approved Newell as a new district entering teams in the South Side Hot Stove League.

Newell will increase the league to seven teams, including Lawrenceville, Hookstown, Shippingport, Georgetown, Hanover Township and Frankfort Springs.

Richard Haynes was named director and William Gamble, assistant director for Newell. The district will sponsor two teams, one each in the 8 - 12 and 13 - 15 age groups. Boundaries for the new district will be set by the boundary committee and Charles Ryland, commissioner.

All boys of all districts were reminded that March 31 is the deadline for signing contracts. Each district will have a special date and place for boys to sign.

All boys must have a birth certificate and be accompanied by a parent or guardian must at the signing. No contracts will be accepted after March 31, the club said.

The club approved a motion of Raymond Scott that it renew its Hot Stove League charter. John Nash, treasurer, reported a balance of $509.39. No further progress was reported on the club's yearbook.

Next meeting will be March also at the Legion Hall near Hookstown. Paul Verzella, vice president, presided.

ELHS May Have Long Weekend; Bellaire, Weir Invade M-A Planks

In order to finish with a .500 record, the East Liverpool Potters will have to pull some minor miracles as they enter the final two games of the season with a 7-9 record.

They meet a so-so Bellaire Big Red team Friday, then come face to face with Weirton, a team that has chalked up 19 straight victories and currently is rated the No. 2 team in West Virginia.

Bellaire has an 8-9 record and also will be trying for the .500 mark in its final game of the season.

Coach Clair Cribbs' team has been known in the past as an outfit that picks up momentum towards the end of the season and is ripe for tournament time. Bellaire was runnerup in the district tourney last season.

—:—

BELLAIRE has won five out of its last seven games. Big victories have been over Martins Ferry, in a game played at Martins Ferry, and Steubenville Big Red. Bellaire split with both Ferry and Steubenville in two-game sessions.

Cribbs, a former two-year All-American in basketball at Pitt, watched his team lose at Weirton, 52-37, but turn around and give the Riders a long evening before dropping a 53-48 tilt.

Bellaire's starting lineup is led by Henderson (Boots) Edwards, a 6-foot-5 senior letterman, who sparked the Big Red in tourney play last season. Henderson is averaging 19 points per game. His running mate is Charles Turner, another regular standing 6-foot-2.

—:—

THE OTHER three probable starters will be Buddy Palmer and Fred Perdue, both 6-foot-1 juniors and Carl Burkhart, 5-foot-11 senior. The top substitutions are Lee Harvey and Homer Johnson a pair of 5-foot-11 juniors.

Weirton is reported just too powerful for its opponents in all phases of basketball shooting, rebounding and defense.

The closest call for Weirton this season came at Parkersburg, where the Riders eked out a 49-47 in the seventh game of the season.

The Riders will start a lineup with every performer 6-foot-2 or over.

Midland's First Tourney Test Slated For March 2

The Midland Leopards, fresh from completing the school's first perfect basketball campaign, will miss first round action in the WPIAL tournament and mark time until Friday, March 2.

On that day, Coach Hank Kuzma's squad will meet the winner of the Ford City - Connellsville game. Ford City won Section 1 and Connellsville wears the crown in Section 2.

Pairings were made Wednesday night at Hotel Webster Hall, Pittsburgh, when the WPIAL committee met.

WPIAL action will get underway Friday when several playoff games to determine Section winners will be run off.

The Ford City - Connellsville game will be played Monday at 9 p. m. at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

If Midland wins on March 2, its next test could be with Farrell in a semi-final match on March 8.

Farrell, the Section 3 king, meets North Union of Section 11 next Wednesday. If Coach Eddie McCluskey's Steelers survive the first test, they face Springdale from Section 11 on March 3.

United Wins, Meets Crestview Five Next

The Review Sports
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1962 PAGE 14

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A bunch of deadeye cagers from United pounded the nets at a 64 per cent clip in the first half and easily vaulted into the finals of the Columbiana County Class "A" tourney with a 71-46 victory over Salineville Wednesday night on the Beaver Local court.

Paced by the fine shooting of Jerry Schaffer, John Hanna and Jim Sturgeon in the first half, Coach Larry Joseph's team had an easy time advancing to a Saturday night's engagement with a strong Crestview team.

United and Crestview battle it out Saturday night in the championship game set for 8:30 p. m. The winner will advance to the Sectional "A" tournament at Canton. Action will get underway Saturday at 7 p. m. when Salineville and United reserve teams clash for the jayvee championship.

—:—

SCHAFFER, one of the district's leading scorers with a 19-point average, hit his average on the nose when he ended up with 19 points for a little less than three quarters of action Wednesday night.

The 5-foot-11 senior, who is the tallest starter on Joseph's small but good shooting five, found a spot on the right side of the basket about 20 feet out and went to work.

He scored 14 points on seven field goals in the first quarter and at one stretch made five straight fielders with his swishing one-handed jump shots.

WHILE Schaffer cooled off after the first period after he had done enough damage, Sturgeon and Hanna picked up the slack.

Sturgeon, at one period in the game, hit on four straight field goal attempts and wound up with 14 points for the evening. Hanna dropped in 10 of his 16 points in the second quarter.

The red hot shooting resulted in a 45-13 lead at halftime for the United team which went into the game with a 10-8 regular season record.

The Golden Eagles finished the evening with a 47 per cent mark while Salineville fired 40 per cent.

In losing, Jack Baker, another one of the leading point makers around the area, managed to score 22 points and tallied all seven of his team's points in the first quarter.

—:—

BAKER, who stands close to 6 feet, averaged over 18 points a game with a team that showed one victory in 18 outings this season.

Joseph emptied his bench midway through the third quarter as the starting five retired for the evening.

In the reserve tournament staged before Wednesday night's varsity event, Salineville staved off a late bid by Crestview to gain a 39-34 victory.

Delana Jenkins, a freshman, paced the Indians with 18 points while Dave Baker and Jack Hoff tallied 10 each for the Crestview jayvees.

Newell, Raiders In Tourney Bids

The Newell High Vikings, with their outstanding scoring twins Mick Staley and Dave Bell primed for warfare, open tournament action tonight when they face Bethany in the first round of the Section 1 tourney at Follansbee.

The game gets underway at 7 p. m. followed by the New Cumberland-West Liberty contest at 8:30.

Coach John Robison's Vikings already have delivered two victories over Bethany. In January, Newell nipped Bethany, 79-75, with Staley scoring 38 points. A month later at Newell, the Vikings edged Bethany again, 60-59, with Bell connecting for 27.

Together, Newell's one-two scoring punch carry a 46-point average into tonight's game. Bell scored 471 points in 20 regular season games for a 23.5 average and Staley has whipped 452 points through the hoops for a 22.6 mark.

Tonight's two survivors hook up in the championship match Saturday at 8 p. m.

Newell puts a 14-6 record on the line while New Cumberland shows a 5-14 mark.

Elsewhere tonight, Stanton Local has a semi-final match with Mt. Pleasant at 8:45 on the Brilliant High court. The winner of that contest faces the Springfield-Yorkville survivor for the Jefferson County championship Saturday night.

One other district team is busy tonight. Salem opens its tournament bid against Youngstown Woodrow Wilson on the South High floor.

Giants Lose Conerly To Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—At the age of 40 and after 14 tough and exciting National Football League seasons, Charley Conerly has retired as a New York Giants quarterback.

Conerly announced his decision Wednesday, then signed on with the Giants for scouting and public relations work.

"I decided I'd had enough. It gets tougher every year, physically and mostly mentally," he commented. "It was harder and harder to keep getting up week after week. As you get older you lose something."

Conerly originally was drafted by the Washington Redskins in 1945 while he was away in the Marines. After the war, he returned to the University of Mississippi, became a renowned passing star for the Rebels, and by the time he was ready for the NFL in 1948, was the property of the Giants.

Counting two divisional playoffs and four league title games, he completed 1,465 passes in 2,923 attempts for 20,259 yards and 177 touchdowns.

He remained the Giants' No. 1 quarterback until this past season, when he finally gave way to Y. A. Tittle, another old-line pro obtained from San Francisco.

Newell Joins Club League

The South Side Athletic Club Tuesday evening approved Newell as a new district entering teams in the South Side Hot Stove League.

Newell will increase the league to seven teams, including Lawrenceville, Hookstown, Shippingport, Georgetown, Hanover Township and Frankfort Springs.

Richard Haynes was named director and William Gamble, assistant director for Newell. The district will sponsor two teams, one each in the 8 - 12 and 13 - 15 age groups. Boundaries for the new district will be set by the boundary committee and Charles Ryland, commissioner.

All boys of all districts were reminded that March 31 is the deadline for signing contracts. Each district will have a special date and place for boys to sign.

All boys must have a birth certificate and be accompanied by a parent or guardian must at the signing. No contracts will be accepted after March 31, the club said.

The club approved a motion of Raymond Scott that it renew its Hot Stove League charter. John Nash, treasurer, reported a balance of $509.39. No further progress was reported on the club's yearbook.

Next meeting will be March also at the Legion Hall near Hookstown. Paul Verzella, vice president, presided.

ELHS May Have Long Weekend; Bellaire, Weir Invade M-A Planks

In order to finish with a .500 record, the East Liverpool Potters will have to pull some minor miracles as they enter the final two games of the season with a 7-9 record.

They meet a so-so Bellaire Big Red team Friday, then come face to face with Weirton, a team that has chalked up 19 straight victories and currently is rated the No. 2 team in West Virginia.

Bellaire has an 8-9 record and also will be trying for the .500 mark in its final game of the season.

Coach Clair Cribbs' team has been known in the past as an outfit that picks up momentum towards the end of the season and is ripe for tournament time. Bellaire was runnerup in the district tourney last season.

—:—

BELLAIRE has won five out of its last seven games. Big victories have been over Martins Ferry, in a game played at Martins Ferry, and Steubenville Big Red. Bellaire split with both Ferry and Steubenville in two-game sessions.

Cribbs, a former two-year All-American in basketball at Pitt, watched his team lose at Weirton, 52-37, but turn around and give the Riders a long evening before dropping a 53-48 tilt.

Bellaire's starting lineup is led by Henderson (Boots) Edwards, a 6-foot-5 senior letterman, who sparked the Big Red in tourney play last season. Henderson is averaging 19 points per game. His running mate is Charles Turner, another regular standing 6-foot-2.

—:—

THE OTHER three probable starters will be Buddy Palmer and Fred Perdue, both 6-foot-1 juniors and Carl Burkhart, 5-foot-11 senior. The top substitutions are Lee Harvey and Homer Johnson a pair of 5-foot-11 juniors.

Weirton is reported just too powerful for its opponents in all phases of basketball shooting, rebounding and defense.

The closest call for Weirton this season came at Parkersburg, where the Riders eked out a 49-47 in the seventh game of the season.

The Riders will start a lineup with every performer 6-foot-2 or over.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

It begins to look as if more beavers will be taken this season than in 1961.

Approximately 15 have been sealed up to date and the season lasts through Feb. 28. Last year 52 beavers were trapped and the lucky trappers really made modern history.

As far as I have been able to learn, last year's open season on beavers was the first since about 150 years ago. In other words, there is no person living who remembers when beavers became extinct in Ohio.

Talking with Levi Fox, the Salem fur buyer, he showed me the difference in beaver pelts. Very few of them were perfect, many had pulled spots as big as a silver dollar with the fur missing. With a flaw like that the value of the pelt was greatly reduced. These furs have to be clipped and no woman would wear a beaver cape or coat with the fur missing in spots.

—:—

ACCORDING TO Levi, he would rather have the trappers let his men do the skinning and caring for the beaver pelts. And he further requests that the beavers be sealed and brought to him for skinning as soon as possible.

This applies to all other fur buyers in the county: Get your pelts sealed and get them to the fur buyer as soon as possible. All pelts must be sealed by the game protector before they can be bought or sold.

The deadline for sealing beaver pelts is March 5. In case you haven't heard, I will be at the County Jail March 2 and March 5 from 5 to 6 p. m. for the purpose of sealing beaver pelts. I am doing this for the convenience of the trappers rather than have trappers from the extreme southern end of the county drive all the way up to my home at Westville Lake in the north section of the county.

I also would like to remind all wild animal and wild bird permitholders to make application now to renew your permit for 1962-63 season.

The deadline for the various permits ends March 15. Failure to renew permits carries rather heavy fines, depending upon the decision of the County Court judge. Drop me a card, Box 202, Beloit, Ohio, and the permit application blanks will be placed in the mail to you.

—:—

I HAD A raccoon hunter take issue with me regarding the extended 'coon season. He went on to say that all adult female raccoons taken this time of the year add up to about six less come next season. I have no argument against this. I have to agree that it used to cost the state of Ohio $14 for each raccoon raised in captivity to be released in the wilds.

I would not like to see the 'coon population cut back to the days 25 years ago when you were lucky if you captured 12 during the open season. This is something that should be discussed at the annual county fish and game hearing, which will be held sometimes around the latter part of March. The official date will be announced later.

Women's Golf Club To Meet At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The Women's Golf Club of the East Palestine Country Club will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Don Archibald, 291 E. Main St.

The meeting is open to those interested. Anyone desiring to join the club may call Mrs. W. B. Jack, of East Liverpool R. D. 2 a member, at FU. 5-4538.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was the first President to be inaugurated on the 20th of January instead of the former March 4th.

Dayton Selected For NIT; Pitt Upsets Temple, 71-65

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dayton, perennial also-ran in the National Invitation Tournament, will take another crack at the elusive title.

The Flyers were named to the 1962 NIT Wednesday, making it six teams in and six to go for the New York basketball postseason classic. A few hours later they marked their selection with a 78-67 home court victory over Memphis State, running their record to 16-6.

Dayton has competed in nine of the last eleven NIT's and has been the beaten finalist no less than five times. For this year's tourney at Madison Square Garden, March 15-24, the Flyers go into a field that so far includes defending champion Providence, Loyola of Chicago, Duquesne, Houston and St. John's of New York.

Basketball's other big post-season affair, the NCAA, did not pick up any new entrants but did announce the sites for three first round games. On March 12, Arizona State University's Border Conference champions will meet the Skyline Conference representative at Tempe, Ariz., and Air Force Academy will play the Southwest Conference winner on the latter's floor. On March 13, Oregon State and Seattle will tangle at Corvallis, Ore.

Wake Forest clinched at least a tie for regular season first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, coming from behind in the final 10 minutes and beating North Carolina State 69-62.

Providence blew seven points of an eight-point lead in the closing seconds but hung on for a 76-73 victory over St. Joseph's (Pa.) in the windup of a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra. In the opener at Philadelphia, Lafayette won for the first time in 26 games and protected its Middle Atlantic Conference lead with a 73-69 upset of LaSalle.

Duquesne ended a three-game losing string and Pitt scored a surprise at the Pitt Field House. The Dukes overwhelmed Georgetown University 72-52 and Pitt upended Temple 71-65.

Bowling Green's Mid-American Conference champions smothered DePaul 83-51, zipping away to a 16-13 lead and coasting in.

Western Kentucky, champion of the Ohio Valley Conference, outpointed Xavier of Ohio 53-48 in a torrid second half shooting display beating the visitors 88-83.

Maris, Cepeda, Colavito Head 'Untouchable' List

By The Associated Press

Only a handful of major league players have yet to come to salary terms with their teams, but the handful includes some of the top names in the business.

They include Roger Maris, Orland Cepeda and Rocky Colavito.

Maris has failed to come to agreement after several conferences with New York Yankee officials. He is believed to be asking $75,000, double last year's salary, and the Yankees are offering about $60,000.

Colavito, who had 45 home runs and a .290 average last season, apparently reached a standstill in his negotiations with the Detroit Tigers Wednesday.

The handsome outfielder received an estimated $35,000 last season and is believed to be asking $50,000.

Cepeda is believed to be asking about the same. The San Francisco slugger led the National League with 46 home runs last season, and had 142 runs batted in and a .311 average.

He has returned an unsigned contract calling for about $40,000, a 33 1-3 per cent increase.

Two of the top players to come to terms Wednesday were outfielder Frank Howard and pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Each received a boost. Howard signed for about $16,000, Koufax for about $25,000.

Some of the others were pitchers Jim Maloney and Johnny Klippstein and catcher Darrell Johnson of Cincinnati; pitcher Billy Hoeft of Baltimore catcher Carl Sawatski and first baseman Frank Leja of St. Louis older Howie Bedell of Milwaukee and relief pitcher Bobby Bolin of San Francisco.

Weirton Will Defend State Wrestling Title

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Forty-eight boys from 18 schools will compete here tomorrow and Saturday in the West Virginia High School Wrestling Tournament.

Pairings for the four boys in each of the 12 weight divisions were announced yesterday by Tournament Director Steve Harrick, West Virginia University wrestling coach.

The entries here qualified in regional tournaments last weekend. Defending champion Weirton, Morgantown and Parkersburg led the list, with five qualifying from each school.

Royals Rip Packers; Nats And Pistons Win

By The Associated Press

If the Cincinnati Royals wind up second in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, much of the credit can be attributed to their ability to beat the Chicago Packers.

The Royals scored 83 points in the first half and went on to drub Chicago 133-125 Wednesday night for the seventh time in eight outings.

The Detroit Pistons, third in the West, kept pace with the runner-up Royals with a 126-123 victory over the St. Louis Hawks. In the only other game, the Syracuse Nats jolted the Philadelphia Warriors 150-109.

Cincy's output set a team scoring high and the 83 points tied a club record for a halftime total.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

It begins to look as if more beavers will be taken this season than in 1961.

Approximately 15 have been sealed up to date and the season lasts through Feb. 28. Last year 52 beavers were trapped and the lucky trappers really made modern history.

As far as I have been able to learn, last year's open season on beavers was the first since about 150 years ago. In other words, there is no person living who remembers when beavers became extinct in Ohio.

Talking with Levi Fox, the Salem fur buyer, he showed me the difference in beaver pelts. Very few of them were perfect, many had pulled spots as big as a silver dollar with the fur missing. With a flaw like that the value of the pelt was greatly reduced. These furs have to be clipped and no woman would wear a beaver cape or coat with the fur missing in spots.

—:—

ACCORDING TO Levi, he would rather have the trappers let his men do the skinning and caring for the beaver pelts. And he further requests that the beavers be sealed and brought to him for skinning as soon as possible.

This applies to all other fur buyers in the county: Get your pelts sealed and get them to the fur buyer as soon as possible. All pelts must be sealed by the game protector before they can be bought or sold.

The deadline for sealing beaver pelts is March 5. In case you haven't heard, I will be at the County Jail March 2 and March 5 from 5 to 6 p. m. for the purpose of sealing beaver pelts. I am doing this for the convenience of the trappers rather than have trappers from the extreme southern end of the county drive all the way up to my home at Westville Lake in the north section of the county.

I also would like to remind all wild animal and wild bird permitholders to make application now to renew your permit for 1962-63 season.

The deadline for the various permits ends March 15. Failure to renew permits carries rather heavy fines, depending upon the decision of the County Court judge. Drop me a card, Box 202, Beloit, Ohio, and the permit application blanks will be placed in the mail to you.

—:—

I HAD A raccoon hunter take issue with me regarding the extended 'coon season. He went on to say that all adult female raccoons taken this time of the year add up to about six less come next season. I have no argument against this. I have to agree that it used to cost the state of Ohio $14 for each raccoon raised in captivity to be released in the wilds.

I would not like to see the 'coon population cut back to the days 25 years ago when you were lucky if you captured 12 during the open season. This is something that should be discussed at the annual county fish and game hearing, which will be held sometimes around the latter part of March. The official date will be announced later.

Dayton Selected For NIT: Pitt Upsets Temple, 71-65

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dayton, perennial also-ran in the National Invitation Tournament, will take another crack at the elusive title.

The Flyers were named to the 1962 NIT Wednesday, making it six teams in and six to go for the New York basketball postseason classic. A few hours later they marked their selection with a 78-67 home court victory over Memphis State, running their record to 16-6.

Dayton has competed in nine of the last eleven NIT's and has been the beaten finalist no less than five times. For this year's tourney at Madison Square Garden, March 15-24, the Flyers go into a field that so far includes defending champion Providence, Loyola of Chicago, Duquesne, Houston and St. John's of New York.

Basketball's other big post-season affair, the NCAA, did not pick up any new entrants but did announce the sites for three first round games. On March 12, Arizona State University's Border Conference champions will meet the Skyline Conference representative at Tempe, Ariz., and Air Force Academy will play the Southwest Conference winner on the latter's floor. On March 13, Oregon State and Seattle will tangle at Corvallis, Ore.

Wake Forest clinched at least a tie for regular season first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, coming from behind in the final 10 minutes and beating North Carolina State 69-62.

Providence blew seven points of an eight-point lead in the closing seconds but hung on for a 76-73 victory over St. Joseph's (Pa.) in the windup of a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra. In the opener at Philadelphia, Lafayette won for the first time in 26 games and protected its Middle Atlantic Conference lead with a 73-69 upset of LaSalle.

Duquesne ended a three-game losing string and Pitt scored a surprise at the Pitt Field House. The Dukes overwhelmed Georgetown University 72-52 and Pitt upended Temple 71-65.

Bowling Green's Mid-American Conference champions smothered DePaul 83-51, zipping away to a 16-13 lead and coasting in.

Western Kentucky, champion of the Ohio Valley Conference, outpointed Xavier of Ohio 53-48 in a torrid second half shooting display beating the visitors 88-83.

Maris, Cepeda, Colavito Head 'Untouchable' List

By The Associated Press

Only a handful of major league players have yet to come to salary terms with their teams, but the handful includes some of the top names in the business.

They include Roger Maris, Orland Cepeda and Rocky Colavito.

Maris has failed to come to agreement after several conferences with New York Yankee officials. He is believed to be asking $75,000, double last year's salary, and the Yankees are offering about $60,000.

Colavito, who had 45 home runs and a .290 average last season, apparently reached a standstill in his negotiations with the Detroit Tigers Wednesday.

The handsome outfielder received an estimated $35,000 last season and is believed to be asking $50,000.

Cepeda is believed to be asking about the same. The San Francisco slugger led the National League with 46 home runs last season, and had 142 runs batted in and a .311 average.

He has returned an unsigned contract calling for about $40,000, a 33 1-3 per cent increase.

Two of the top players to come to terms Wednesday were outfielder Frank Howard and pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Each received a boost. Howard signed for about $16,000, Koufax for about $25,000.

Some of the others were pitchers Jim Maloney and Johnny Klippstein and catcher Darrell Johnson of Cincinnati; pitcher Billy Hoeft of Baltimore catcher Carl Sawatski and first baseman Frank Leja of St. Louis older Howie Bedell of Milwaukee and relief pitcher Bobby Bolin of San Francisco.

Weirton Will Defend State Wrestling Title

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Forty-eight boys from 18 schools will compete here tomorrow and Saturday in the West Virginia High School Wrestling Tournament.

Pairings for the four boys in each of the 12 weight divisions were announced yesterday by Tournament Director Steve Harrick, West Virginia University wrestling coach.

The entries here qualified in regional tournaments last weekend. Defending champion Weirton, Morgantown and Parkersburg led the list, with five qualifying from each school.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Branca Airs Thoughts On Interviews

There's nothing especially newsworthy, I suppose, about a bunch of not especially proficient golf players swinging through a not especially professional round of golf.

Alan Gill

But that's just what happened last Sunday at the 22nd National Baseball Players Golf Tournament in Miami Springs. A beer company televised the shindig for the benefit of a few townships noted for their beer consumption.

Why the interest, then? Well, you may muster up a small concern over the fact that a tall, swarthy insurance salesman named Ralph Branca interviewed the ball players between shots. It was Branca's debut as a sportscaster and, at Toots Shor's the other day, he had some thoughts on the subject.

-:-

"MOST OF THESE television guys," he said, "put an audience right off to sleep with the questions they ask. How tall is the guy?" (Branca is 6 feet 3.) "What does he weight?" (Branca is up to 244. "I eat," he said. He wants to get down to his pitching weight of 255. How? "I don't eat," he said.) "How many children does he have?" (Branca has two girls.)

"People don't want to know this sort of baloney. They want to know how Mickey Mantle got to playing golf in the first place. They want anecdotes."

Some years ago, Branca wanted to be a crooner.

"I used to belt out songs with the Dodger club, with Bobby Bragan at the piano. And Ed Sullivan got wind of it and there I was on his program and Bobby had a lot of friends in at his house to listen. 'This guy's good,' Bragan told them.

"Well, I started off-key and stayed off-key and Bragan was on the phone hollerin', 'What am I gonna tell these people?' Then once on Jackie Robinson's radio show, I was the Mystery Tenor."

-:-

IN THE Brooklyn Dodgers' playoff with the New York Giants in 1951, Ralph Branca achieved a certain degree of notoriety when he was called in to relieve Don Newcombe in the bottom half of the ninth, with the score 4-2 in favor of the Dodgers, men on second and third, and Bobby Thomson coming to the plate.

The second pitch was, Branca recalls, "high and inside," and Thomson caught hold of the ball and knocked it into a pennant-finning, history making homer.

"It doesn't haunt me," Branca shrugged. "I forgot about the thing in an hour. Actually, all I remember is a red-headed sports writer sticking his face into mine through all that turmoil and askin', 'How do you feel? How do you feel?' Then Bobby Thomson and I were on the Sullivan program and singing to each other."

-:-

BRANCA, SMILING, "Because of You," and the lyrics contained references to the fact that Branca had just married the boss' daughter.

He sang:

"Because of you,
"Dodger fans are forlorn.
"Because of you,
"I should never been born.
"Because of you,
"They yelled, 'Drop dead!'
"And several million want my my head
"To sever forever in scorn,
"One lonely bird had a word for my ear.
"The only girl, what a pearl of good cheer.
"I lost the game but wound up with the dame.
"She took my name in spite of you."

-:-

OUTSIDE of the pitching and crooning, Branca's only other public, performances were those cigarette commercials he did. (He's not a smoker, never was.)

"All my buddies would say, 'Why, you lousy liar!'"

What was his best moment in baseball, I asked.

"It was in '46 and I was a kid of 20. Durocher put me in as a starting pitcher, just to throw to one man. I went the inning without allowing a guy on base.

"When I came in, Leo said, 'Keep throwin' that ball, kid. I'm going to keep you in there.'

"I went the distance, pitched a 5-0 game, got us into first place, and whaddaya know, I got two base hits that day!"

Branca Airs Thoughts On Interviews

There's nothing especially newsworthy, I suppose, about a bunch of not especially proficient golf players swinging through a not especially professional round of golf.

Alan Gill

But that's just what happened last Sunday at the 22nd National Baseball Players Golf Tournament in Miami Springs. A beer company televised the shindig for the benefit of a few townships noted for their beer consumption.

Why the interest, then? Well, you may muster up a small concern over the fact that a tall, swarthy insurance salesman named Ralph Branca interviewed the ball players between shots. It was Branca's debut as a sportscaster and, at Toots Shor's the other day, he had some thoughts on the subject.

-:-

"MOST OF THESE television guys," he said, "put an audience right off to sleep with the questions they ask. How tall is the guy?" (Branca is 6 feet 3.) "What does he weight?" (Branca is up to 244. "I eat," he said. He wants to get down to his pitching weight of 255. How? "I don't eat," he said.) "How many children does he have?" (Branca has two girls.)

"People don't want to know this sort of baloney. They want to know how Mickey Mantle got to playing golf in the first place. They want anecdotes."

Some years ago, Branca wanted to be a crooner.

"I used to belt out songs with the Dodger club, with Bobby Bragan at the piano. And Ed Sullivan got wind of it and there I was on his program and Bobby had a lot of friends in at his house to listen. 'This guy's good,' Bragan told them.

"Well, I started off-key and stayed off-key and Bragan was on the phone hollerin', 'What am I gonna tell these people?' Then once on Jackie Robinson's radio show, I was the Mystery Tenor."

-:-

IN THE Brooklyn Dodgers' playoff with the New York Giants in 1951, Ralph Branca achieved a certain degree of notoriety when he was called in to relieve Don Newcombe in the bottom half of the ninth, with the score 4-2 in favor of the Dodgers, men on second and third, and Bobby Thomson coming to the plate.

The second pitch was, Branca recalls, "high and inside," and Thomson caught hold of the ball and knocked it into a pennant-finning, history making homer.

"It doesn't haunt me," Branca shrugged. "I forgot about the thing in an hour. Actually, all I remember is a red-headed sports writer sticking his face into mine through all that turmoil and askin', 'How do you feel? How do you feel?' Then Bobby Thomson and I were on the Sullivan program and singing to each other."

-:-

BRANCA, SMILING, "Because of You," and the lyrics contained references to the fact that Branca had just married the boss' daughter.

He sang:

"Because of you,
"Dodger fans are forlorn.
"Because of you,
"I should never been born.
"Because of you,
"They yelled, 'Drop dead!'
"And several million want my my head
"To sever forever in scorn,
"One lonely bird had a word for my ear.
"The only girl, what a pearl of good cheer.
"I lost the game but wound up with the dame.
"She took my name in spite of you."

-:-

OUTSIDE of the pitching and crooning, Branca's only other public, performances were those cigarette commercials he did. (He's not a smoker, never was.)

"All my buddies would say, 'Why, you lousy liar!'"

What was his best moment in baseball, I asked.

"It was in '46 and I was a kid of 20. Durocher put me in as a starting pitcher, just to throw to one man. I went the inning without allowing a guy on base.

"When I came in, Leo said, 'Keep throwin' that ball, kid. I'm going to keep you in there.'

"I went the distance, pitched a 5-0 game, got us into first place, and whaddaya know, I got two base hits that day!"

Photographers Move To Protect Public

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "certified professional photographer" designation is planned for reputable individuals and studios by the Professional Photographers Association of Ohio. It seeks to protect the public from what it calls "the gyp photographer or photo studio."

This proposal and a plan for self-policing will be considered for approval when the association meets here March 3-6.

In the Western Hemisphere only two countries, Bolivia and Paraguay in South America, do not border on the sea.

Ohioan Sentenced For Safe-Cracking

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William Graham, 33, of Warren, Ohio, was given a 1-2 year term in Western State Penitentiary Wednesday on safe-cracking charges.

Graham and two other Warren men, William Whitman, 34, and James M. Cononico, 31, were arrested Oct. 30, 1960.

Police said they found safe-cracking tools and a pistol in the trio's car after stopping it for a defective tail light.

The Allegheny County crime laboratory said marks on a sledgehammer matched marks on a store safe that had been burglarized.

Whitman and Cononico earlier received prison terms of 1½ - 3 years each; Graham's sentence was delayed because he was ill.

High Court Upholds Traffic Injury Award

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has upheld a $16,000 award to Evelyn Carnes of Canton for auto accident injuries.

In a unanimous decision Wednesday, the court affirmed the finding against Lois V. Dancy, although reversing portions of lower court rulings. The traffic collision occurred June 6, 1952, at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue NW in Canton.

Millionth Mile Quite A Trip For Old Bus

SEATTLE (AP) — The millionth mile for old city bus No. 907 was quite a trip — free rides, flowers for the women passengers and an accordionist playing "The Trolley Song."

Mrs. Dominick Lombardo got special attention when she said she was on her way downtown to get a hair-do for her 31st wedding anniversary.

Old 907 has been in service 21 years and 5 months, and carried an estimated 3,750,000 passengers. It has been washed 2,228 times. It has worn out 24 new front tires and 98 recaps on the rear wheels.

Mrs. Haddie Hoffman, informed the trip was on the house, said:

"Wouldn't you know? I had a transfer."

Some dragonflies migrate hundreds of miles each year. These insects are as agile as the hummingbird.

Extradition Waived On Kidnaping Charges

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—A young couple have waived extradition to Ohio to face charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the alleged kidnaping of a 12-year-old girl.

Robert Donald McKeehan, 25, and his wife, Elta, 22, were arrested here on an FBI warrant.

Thomas J. Gearty, special agent in charge of the Iowa-Nebraska FBI office in Omaha, said the girl was with them. The child is Linda Lee Hayes of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Mayville.

Millionth Mile Quite A Trip For Old Bus

SEATTLE (AP) — The millionth mile for old city bus No. 907 was quite a trip — free rides, flowers for the women passengers and an accordionist playing "The Trolley Song."

Mrs. Dominick Lombardo got special attention when she said she was on her way downtown to get a hair-do for her 31st wedding anniversary.

Old 907 has been in service 21 years and 5 months, and carried an estimated 3,750,000 passengers. It has been washed 2,228 times. It has worn out 24 new front tires and 98 recaps on the rear wheels.

Mrs. Haddie Hoffman, informed the trip was on the house, said:

"Wouldn't you know? I had a transfer."

Some dragonflies migrate hundreds of miles each year. These insects are as agile as the hummingbird.

Extradition Waived On Kidnaping Charges

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—A young couple have waived extradition to Ohio to face charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the alleged kidnaping of a 12-year-old girl.

Robert Donald McKeehan, 25, and his wife, Elta, 22, were arrested here on an FBI warrant.

Thomas J. Gearty, special agent in charge of the Iowa-Nebraska FBI office in Omaha, said the girl was with them. The child is Linda Lee Hayes of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Mayville.

BRIGHT'S

This is the largest small home or the smallest large home you could describe. It's a modern ranch type brick just 3 years old and has everything. 3 rooms and bath plus dining area. The third bedroom can be converted into a dining room if you don't need bedroom space and the semi finished basement recreation room can be used for sleeping quarters if 3 bedrooms are not enough. Kitchen is a dream and the ceramic tiled bath is a beauty. Also has ½ bath in basement. All this plus attached garage and beautifully landscaped level lot make the picture complete. Owner has been transferred and the company will underwrite the loss so if you want a bargain in Calcutta Acres suggest you try offering $20,600. and ask them to leave the range, oven, disposal, dishwasher, washer, dryer, and livingroom and hall nylon carpet.

9000 square feet of warehouse space on each floor of the old SMITH and PHILLIPS warehouse, located on East 4th Street. Easy access and good location.

244 HAYWOOD STREET, BEECHWOOD for just $4,000 you can own a 3 room and bath home with full basement, new gas furnace, on a 120 foot lot, city water, gas, and sewer. (Assessment not paid.)

BRIGHT'S

This is the largest small home or the smallest large home you could describe. It's a modern ranch type brick just 5 years old and has everything. 5 rooms and bath plus dining area. The third bedroom can be converted into a dining room if you don't need bedroom space and the semi finished basement recreation room can be used for sleeping quarters if 3 bedrooms are not enough. Kitchen is a dream and the ceramic tiled bath is a beauty. Also has ½ bath in basement. All this plus attached garage and beautifully landscaped level lot make the picture complete. Owner has been transferred and the company will underwrite the loss so if you want a bargain in Calcutta Acres suggest you try offering $20,800, and ask them to leave the range, oven, disposal, dishwasher, washer, dryer, and livingroom and hall nylon carpet.

9000 square feet of warehouse space on each floor of the old SMITH and PHILLIPS warehouse, located on East 4th Street. Easy access and good location.

244 HAYWOOD STREET, BEECHWOOD for just $4,000 you can own a 3 room and bath home with full basement, new gas furnace, on a 120 foot lot, city water, gas, and sewer. (Assessment not paid.)

Junior Editors Quiz on PICNICS

QUESTION: What is meant by the word 'picnic'?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Sometimes we meet a word that seems to describe the thing we are talking about perfectly. Such a word is picnic. The gay, haphazard-sounding word came from France and originally meant a sort of pot luck supper. Today it means a gathering outdoors where the only purpose is to eat and have fun. The food to take on a picnic is the food that is the most fun and the least trouble to eat. The best food to take is something you can eat with your fingers—hot dogs and corn on the cob and potato chips. Hard boiled eggs might have been invented just for picnics. A dinner at home has certain rules. Some dishes should be hot, and you have to be neat and clean. A picnic has no such rules. Some things make a picnic better, though. Pick a spot near a stream so you can dip your hands in after you eat. With all the finger food your hands will get mighty sticky. If you cook anything, be sure the fire is out when you leave. And don't worry about the ants crawling over the picnic basket and the blanket—they're part of a picnic too.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time you go on a picnic, try to take an active part in the planning. What is your favorite picnic food? Where do you like to go? The beach? The park? The mountain trails?

★ ★ ★

11 Townships Listed In Fire Warden Area

Caution with cigarettes and matches in woodland areas in the district was urged by the Ohio Division of Forestry in announcing the start of the spring forest fire season March 1.

In the period which extends through May, dead leaves and grass are readily ignited by sparks which can start destructive and dangerous fires, officials said.

Eleven townships in Columbiana County are in the organized fire protection district where permits are required for kindling any fire in areas outside incorporated towns and villages.

Permits may be obtained without cost from the following wardens:

St. Clair — Clifford Dunn, King Reed, Laura May Smith, Clarence Green, Harold Thompson, Warren Smith, Thurman Rambo, L. D. Congrove and Elmer Hiles.

Liverpool — Wilbert Taylor, John O. Gilson, Homer Cronin and Harry Smith; Madison — Stanley Wolski, Veronica Wolski, John Varsho, Dean Forbes, Hugh Jack, Donald Custer, Theodore Appleby and Charles Heffner.

Middleton — Richard Slocum, Donald Williams, Donald Mahon, Robert Justice, J. V. Mackall and Veda Cope; Yellow Creek — Robert W. Lewis and George Boyd.

Wayne — Charles Davis and R. Bruce Thorne; Center—Paul M. Faulk, Thomas Senanefes and Inez Watson; Elkrun — Deane Price, Lawrence Baker and Olin Evans; Washington — Clarence Francis, Herman Whiteside, Elmer Lohman and Tony Brandonisio.

Franklin — Forest Finnicum, Carl Blake and Paul Crawford, and Hanover — Nellie Strahm, Roy Painter, Leland Faloon, Max Gard and Walter Burbick.

Shrine Clubs To Hold Annual Dance June 23

Committees from three district Shrine Clubs are planning the annual Tri - State Shrine Club dance to be held June 22 at Rock Springs Park in Chester.

Cmmmittee members from the Northern Panhandle, East Liverpool and Steubenville clubs said Russ Romero's orchestra will provide music.

Shriners and wives from West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania attend each year. The committee will meet June 15 at Virginia Gardens in the park to plan further details.

The presidents are C. Robert Swain of Northern Panhandle, Arthur F. Browand of Steubenville and I. J. Vorndran of East Liverpool.

200 Area Students To Enter Science Fair At Steubenville

Some 200 East Liverpool area students are expected to take part in the fourth annual Tri-State Science Fair to be held March 2-5 at the Community Arena at Steubenville.

Over $500 in prizes and special awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners and honorable mention recipients at the fair at which pupils from six counties are to be represented.

Seventy - one students from East Liverpool schools are registered for the fair, which in previous years has been held here. The city contingent includes 47 from Westgate, 14 from the high school and 10 from East Junior High.

There are some 50 students expected to take part from Beaver Local High School.

Prizes will be awarded in five major categories: biology, chemistry and physics in the senior high school division and junior and general science divisions.

Exhibits are to be set up at the arena Friday, March 2, and judging will be conducted the following day from 10 a. m. to 5 p.m. Exhibits will remain on public display until 4 p. m. March 5.

Exhibits will be judged for scientific thought, creative ability, effective presentation, technical skill and neatness.

Delaware, on Dec. 7, 1787, was the first of America's original 13 Colonies to enter the Union by ratifying the Constitution.
